THE ADMINISTRATION

Robert E. Harlan

President and Chief Executive Officer

Robert E. "Bob" Harlan, now in his fifth year as the operating head of the Green Bay Packers, Inc., has gained substantial respect throughout the National Football League for the extensive and innovative agenda he has implemented since taking over the office of president and chief executive officer in 1989.

A member of the team's front office since 1971, the veteran Packer official made two major and historic decisions late in the 1991 season, moves that already have had a profoundly positive effect upon the Green Bay franchise and its future. He first relieved Executive Vice President Tom Braatz of his responsibilities November 20, 1991, and, one week later, named former Raider personnel chief Ron Wolf as executive vice president and general manager, with total authority over all football operations.

The latter decision, in the light of subsequent events, gives promise of being one of the most significant in the Packers' 74-year history. Wolf was chosen "NFL Executive of the Year" following his first full season with the Packers, which saw him hire ex-49er offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren as head coach to replace Lindy Infante and also acquire Pro Bowl quarterback Brett Favre for a first-round draft choice in the most acclaimed trade of 1992. Holmgren responded by directing the Packers to a 9-7 record — a five-victory improvement over '91 — in his first season and Favre established himself as the Packers' franchise quarterback in the process.

The hiring of Wolf was the latest in a series of key moves Harlan has effected or triggered since succeeding Judge Robert J. Parins as president of the corporation at the annual stockholders meeting June 5, 1989.

Once elected, the Packers' new chief executive officer lost little time initiating his first major project. Ten weeks later, in late August of 1989, he announced plans to construct 1,920 club seats — a historic "first" in the home of the Packers — and 36 new private boxes in Green Bay's Lambeau Field, an $8,263,000 expansion which increased the stadium capacity to nearly 60,000 (59,543). It was completed in time for the start of 1990 NFL preseason play.

A firm believer in the importance of ongoing, person-to-person dialogue with the team's fans, the 56-year-old Iowa native also scheduled and staged the first "Breakfast with the Packers" functions in club history, gatherings for fans selected at random by computer, at which he invited questions and feedback from them about the Packer organization. The fourth overall was held in Milwaukee in May of this year, following a second such session at Green Bay in 1992.

Committed to making the fans' day at the stadium as enjoyable as possible, Harlan in 1990 also directed the formation of a comprehensive program designed to encourage responsible drinking by fans in Lambeau Field, and this year is implementing a no-smoking ban in the stadium seating area at all home games. Results in the first three years of the responsible drinking program's existence indicate it has been a success, with arrests for misconduct down appreciably from previous years.

In what was unanimously approved and widely hailed — within and outside the organization — as a master stroke, Harlan also nominated Milwaukee Brewers President Allan H. "Bud" Selig to the Packer board of directors at the 1990 annual meeting, a move designed to promote a closer relationship between the two Wisconsin sports franchises.

A year earlier, while still executive vice president of administration, Harlan was the catalyst in the implementation and development of a long-term marketing program, launched with the hiring of a director of marketing and the opening of an official outlet store in the Packer administration building, a project which has become a solid success in the intervening four years and gives promise of greater dividends in the future with a major expansion of the team shop.

Most recently, in 1992, he initiated plans for a major upgrade and expansion of the team's administration building and training quarters — a 20,500-square foot addition, encompassing a 74- by 80-foot gymnasium with a suspended running track as well as new public relations and marketing offices. The project, completed in time for the opening of 1993 training camp, also permitted enlarging of the team shop to 2,000 square feet — six times its original size.

In the overall process, Harlan has adhered to the agenda he had set for himself on the occasion of his election as president, when he announced, "I want to move this franchise ahead in every area...We've got to be successful from top to bottom to succeed. And we are going to succeed."

At that point, he addressed what he termed the two key "bottom lines...Obviously, one is winning football games, and the other is keeping the organization financially solvent and strong so it can always remain in Green Bay and compete with the other 27 clubs in this league."

Becoming president of the Green Bay Packers, he also revealed on that historic day, had exceeded his fondest dreams.

"In 1960, when I had just graduated from Marquette University and was working as sports information director at Marquette, just getting started in public relations, I attended a Packer game at Milwaukee County Stadium," he told members of the media following his election. "I made a comment to my wife then that I hope I can grow in the public relations field and become competent enough that somebody I can become the public relations director for the Green Bay Packers. When the opportunity came along 11 years later to join this fine organization, I jumped at it...To be associated with the NFL and the Packers, I have been highly honored...That honor has reached a new and incredible level."

Since taking over as chief executive officer, Harlan has become actively involved in National Football League matters and currently serves on the influential NFL Properties Executive Committee.

The ninth president in the team's 74-year existence, Harlan is the first CEO to come up through the ranks. All previous presidents of the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise had come from the business and professional areas of the community as members of the board of directors.

Harlan, who has been involved in every area of the club's operations over the course of his 22-year Green Bay career, joined the Packer organization as assistant general manager on June 1, 1971, after serving as director of public relations for the St. Louis baseball Cardinals. He later was named corporate general manager in 1975, corporate assistant to the president in 1981 and executive vice president of administration on February 16, 1988.

In the latter role, he had been responsible for team travel, negotiating radio and preseason television contracts, front office personnel, ticket office operations, purchasing, the leasing of Lambeau Field's private boxes, insurance, game-day entertainment and the scheduling of preseason games.

Prior to 1985, he also had negotiated all player contracts for 14 years.

Harlan, who earned a B.S. degree in journalism from Marquette in 1958, had a brief tour of duty in the U.S. Army before spending six months as a general reporter for United Press International in Milwaukee. He subsequently became sports information director at Marquette in 1959, serving six years in that capacity, after which he joined the St. Louis baseball Cardinals in 1965, serving as director of community relations and the speakers' bureau for two years and as director of public relations for 3½ years before coming to the Packers.

Born Robert Ernest Harlan in Des Moines, Iowa, on September 9, 1936, he is active in the Green Bay community as a member of the boards of directors of St. Mary's Hospital, St. Norbert College and First Bank of Green Bay. He also is a member of the executive board of the Packer 65 Roses Sports Club, which was created to generate awareness of cystic fibrosis and to raise money for research to find a cure for the dreaded disease.

Bob and his wife, Madeline, have three sons — Kevin, 33, who is the play-by-play "voice" of both the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs and the NBA's Minnesota Timberwolves; Bryan, 31, who is director of public relations for the Chicago Bears; and Michael, 24, who is in sports marketing in Milwaukee.

An avid golfer, Harlan also is an "involved" fan, closely monitoring the athletic fortunes of the Milwaukee Brewers and Milwaukee Bucks as well as those of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay and his alma mater, Marquette.

THE ADMINISTRATION

Michael R. Reinfeldt

Chief Financial Officer

Michael R. Reinfeldt, the first chief financial officer in the 72-year history of the Packer Corporation, has an extensive background in finance as an athletics administrator at both the college and professional levels.

As a former all-pro defensive back, he has brought an important and additional dimension to his responsibilities, which include negotiating all player contracts as well as supervising the Packers' financial operations and accounting staff, and overseeing the preparation of all corporate and departmental budgets.

A native of Baraboo, Wis., he was named to the position by Bob Harlan, the Packers' president and chief executive officer, on Nov. 8, 1990, coming to the Packers from the University of Southern California, where he had served as the school's associate athletic director. He previously had been chief financial officer of the Los Angeles Raiders from 1985 through 1987.

Reinfeldt, who earned an MBA degree in management and finance from Houston Baptist University, obtained a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, where he starred as a four-year starter on the varsity football team and holds the school record for most interceptions in a career (24). It is a mark that is not likely to be broken because his alma mater dropped football after his senior year. Reinfeldt holds another distinction in UW-M's annals — he is the only alumnus in the institution's history ever to play in the National Football League.

Following graduation, Reinfeldt went on to a distinguished, nine-year playing career in the professional ranks, begun when he signed with the then-Oakland Raiders as a free agent in 1975. After spending that season with the Raiders, he played eight years (1975-83) with the Houston Oilers, starting 102 consecutive games, calling defensive signals for the secondary and leading the team in interceptions in 1977, 1979 and 1981. In the process, he played in two AFC title games for Houston (against Pittsburgh in 1978 and 1979) and also acquired his MBA degree while attending Houston Baptist in the off-season.

Reinfeldt enjoyed his best season in 1979, when he led the NFL in interceptions with 12, earned consensus All-Pro honors, started in the Pro Bowl and was named Player of the Year in the American Football Conference.

Subsequently, upon retiring as an active player, he returned to the Raiders as chief financial officer, overseeing the organization's financial and accounting operations and negotiating the majority of player contracts. He also dealt with local television and radio contracts, and was responsible for staff personnel.

Reinfeldt left professional football in 1988 to join the athletic department at the University of Southern California, where he served as the school's assistant athletic director for one year, then was promoted to associate athletic director, a position he held until he joined the Packer organization on Jan. 7, 1991.

At USC, he was responsible for the formulation and control of the athletic department's $17 million budget, and handled negotiations on major contracts with radio and television networks, sponsors and outside suppliers.

Born May 6, 1953, in Baraboo, Wis., Reinfeldt was a high school sports star there, earning six letters in football and basketball. Still highly athletic, he regularly is involved in a variety of sports, including tennis, golf and bicycling, activities he shares with his wife, Susan, as well as basketball and racquetball. Also an omnivorous reader, he is committed to reading "as many different books as I can...I try to read three or four books a week — some fiction, some historical fiction and some factual...some biography...a little bit of everything."

Ron Wolf

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Although Ron Wolf has been on the Green Bay scene for less than two years, he has made a more profound impact upon the Packer organization in that short span than anyone since the advent of the legendary Vince Lombardi three decades ago.

"I was brought here to win," Wolf declared during an early season speaking appearance last year, succinctly delineating the challenge he had accepted in taking over as the team's executive vice president and general manager on November 27, 1991. Seldom has anyone responded to such a challenge with greater dispatch than the man who earlier had played a major role in developing the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders into one of pro football's most successful franchises.

Although a Super Bowl remains to be won, the tireless Wolf already has delivered a contender — in just one year's time — with the aid of the head coach he selected to direct the on-field operations, former 49ers offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren.

The latter proved to be a master stroke and, in the months that followed, Wolf supplemented that contribution by executing two significant trades, later with a series of shrewd acquisitions via the waiver wire and free agent market.

The key transactions saw him acquire Brett Favre, a highly-talented young quarterback with an impressive arm, from the Atlanta Falcons with a first-round draft choice, and huge offensive tackle Tootie Robbins from the Phoenix Cardinals for a sixth-round pick. He subsequently added center/guard Frank Winters, signed from the Kansas City Chiefs in Plan B, and a savvy, sure-handed fullback, Harry Sydney of the 49ers, to the mix, providing valuable maturity and stability.

These, and several other timely and profitable moves, helped the Packers to forge their second-best record since 1972, a 9-7 mark that saw them remain in the NFC Central race until the final game of the '92 season.

In the wake of that remarkable turnaround — the Packers had been 4-12 in 1991 after going 6-and-10 in 1990 — Wolf was saluted as "NFL Executive of the Year" by The Sporting News, thus becoming the first Packer executive ever to be so honored.

Wolf, who came to the Packers from the New York Jets, typically deflected credit from himself, preferring to generalize in labeling The Sporting News award "a great honor for the Packer organization."

But Bob Harlan, the Packers' president and chief executive officer — and the man who hired him — offers a more specific analysis.

"I think I can tell you. Ron Wolf spends every minute of every waking hour thinking about what he can do to make this football team better," Harlan said. "He's dedicated and working at it so constantly. With that work ethic, you think, 'We're going to make it.'"

The Packers' on-field upswing since Wolf's arrival, accompanied by increasingly high expectations by the team's excited loyalists, documents Harlan's decision to bring him in late in 1991 with total authority over the football operation.

"When we started the search to fill the position," Harlan said at the time of the announcement, we put together a list of eight names. "Ron's name was at the top of the list."

Wolf, who previously had spent 25 years in the front office of the Raiders, took over a position new to the Packers' organizational structure in terms of authority and responsibility, said authority including hiring and supervising the head coach and the scouting staff, conducting the draft and making all football decisions for the organization.

With the sweeping mandate, Wolf moved swiftly. He made his first major decision in a span of 24 days after his appointment, dismissing Lindy Infante as head coach on December 22, 1991, his second in hiring Mike Holmgren as Infante's successor just 20 days later — January 11, 1992.

The 54-year-old Wolf, who agreed to a five-year contract in leaving the New York Jets to join the Packer organization, credits his long experience in the Raiders' front office with preparing him for his current responsibilities.

"I had an opportunity to learn from — now that Paul Brown's no longer with us — to me, the greatest figure in the game today, Al Davis," he said. "He knows every aspect of the game of professional football — not just the X's and O's but from the business standpoint and the talent standpoint. He is totally involved, and he taught me. I was very, very fortunate to work for him."

THE ADMINISTRATION

The Pennsylvania native began his professional football career under Davis in 1963 when he joined the then-fledgling Raiders as a talent scout.

Subsequently, when Davis was named American Football League commissioner in 1966, Wolf accompanied him to the league office as the AFL's coordinator of talent. He returned to the Raiders prior to the opening of the 1966 season and played a major role in the club's personnel operation until the spring of 1975.

At that time, the then 37-year-old Wolf was named to oversee the formation of the newly-franchised Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the NFL as vice president of operations. He remained in that capacity until 1978 when he re-joined the Raiders, for whom he headed up player personnel operations until he went to the Jets organization in June of 1990.

Born in New Freedom, Pa., on December 30, 1938, Wolf attended the University of Oklahoma, where he majored in history. He earlier had served with Army Intelligence in Europe for three years.

Wolf has said he decided he wanted to make professional football his life's work "when I was in the service in '58 or '59, and I was stationed in Berlin, Germany. I think that appealed to me as something I would really like to do if I could do it. I never thought I'd be able to get my foot in the door."

His first job in the field was with Pro Football Illustrated, a publication based in Chicago, in 1961. He subsequently returned to the University of Oklahoma in 1962, he said, "and then Al Davis called me in 1963, after I'd taken my last final examination at Oklahoma...The very day, he called me."

When not immersed in football matters today, Wolf can be found reading. "I like to read novels — and when I really get serious — I like to delve into the Civil War or World War II," he says of himself. "That's when I get into a serious mode, which runs for about two weeks...Then I get off it."

Wolf, who has a corollary and highly developed interest in the lives of legendary military leaders, such as George S. Patton, George Custer and Douglas MacArthur, et al, said, "What fascinates me — and I can't pin the answer down — is where do all these people come from...the great people that emerge in time of crisis? Where have they been? Why do they suddenly appear on the scene at the precise moment of history?"

Ron's family includes his wife, Edie, and five children — daughters Saralyn, Celli and Joan, and two sons, Jonathan and Eliot. Mrs. Wolf is a psychologist who has established a practice in Green Bay.

Lee Rummel

Executive Director of Public Relations

Lee Rummel has been a member of the Packer front office for 19 years, serving as director of public relations in 1974 and from 1980 through 1988, and as director of publicity from 1975 through 1979.

He was named executive director of public relations in March of 1989 by Robert Harlan, then executive vice president of administration, with responsibility for overseeing the public relations and marketing and community relations areas. Prior to joining the Packer organization on March 24, 1974, Rummel was a sportswriter and columnist for the Green Bay Press-Gazette for 29½ years.

In the course of his two "careers," he has been involved in staffing all 27 Super Bowls played to date, the first eight representing the Press-Gazette and the last 19 as a member of the National Football League's auxiliary media relations staff.

Rummel also is currently a member of the NFL public relations directors' Professional Football Writers of America liaison committee, following long service as a member of the statistics committee.

While at the Press-Gazette, he was the only sports writer in Wisconsin to have been directly involved in coverage of the Packers throughout all of the team's coaching regimes to that point, beginning with Packer founder E.L. "Curly" Lambeau and continuing until the naming of Bart Starr in 1975.

In 1967, he was voted "Wisconsin Sports Writer of the Year." He also is a past president of the former Wisconsin Pro Football Writers' Association.

Rummel, a native of Shawano, Wis., where he was born June 30, 1924, began his career as the sports editor of a weekly newspaper while a Shawano High School freshman. He is a member of the executive committee of the Brown County Civic Music Association, along with his wife, Noreen, as well as of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis). He also is a member of the St. Norbert College Fine Arts Committee, the Green Bay School/Business/Industry Partnership Council and the board of directors of the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

The Green Bay Packers, celebrating their 75th season in professional football, are a team and an organization apart. Unique in both structure and accomplishment, they represent — from an organizational standpoint — the only publicly-owned franchise in the 28-club National Football League. On the field, they have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in the NFL's 73-year history.

Green Bay Packers, Inc., was founded as a non-profit corporation in 1922 under the leadership of A.B. Turnbull, then publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, who became the organization's first president. There are 4,632 shares of stock owned by 1,869 shareholders. The corporation is governed by a seven-member Executive Committee, elected from a 45-person board of directors. (For "The Green Bay Packer Story," turn to page 223).

HEAD COACH

Mike Holmgren

Head Coach

In just one short and memorable year as Green Bay's head coach, Michael George Holmgren has made Packer history. In 1992, as a first-year field leader in the National Football League, he led the Packers to their second-best record in two decades. And, in so doing, gave Packer loyalists the distinct impression that more success — considerably more — is to follow.

The eleventh head coach in team annals, the towering Californian is only the third in the organization's 74-year history to forge a winning record — 9-7 in this case — in his initial season. The only others were team founder E.L. "Curly" Lambeau and Vince Lombardi, underscoring the significance of Holmgren's achievement.

Taking over a team which had finished 4-and-12 and 6-and-10 in the two previous years, he maneuvered the Packers to within one victory of the National Football League playoffs, leading them to a six-game winning streak — their longest since 1965 — along the way.

Holmgren's baptismal success stemmed in large part from his ability to achieve what he listed as his number one priority. At the outset, he pinpointed the need "to establish a winning attitude," asserting, "We have to establish the fact that good things are going to happen in the second half of games, not bad things...And that's a mindset."

The Packers' 1992 record is eloquent proof that Holmgren's words were taken to heart. Over the course of the season, the Packers compiled an 8-0 record in games in which they led at halftime, a shining example of the positive approach. And, poetically, they came from behind in the final minute of play to post their first regular-season victory of the "Holmgren Era," scoring with 13 seconds remaining to shade the Cincinnati Bengals, 24-23.

All in all, it was a remarkable shakedown cruise for one whose only previous experience as a head coach had been in golf and tennis at the high school level. In the wake of it, not surprisingly, Holmgren was saluted as "NFC Coach of the Year" by both the Football News and the Kansas City Committee of 101 for transforming the Packers into a winner in a single season.

In complete command of his football team throughout his maiden season, Holmgren exuded a quiet confidence from the beginning, perhaps traceable to the league-wide reputation as one of professional football's premier offensive coaches he had brought with him from the San Francisco 49ers — not to mention a long time identification with success.

Gil Haskell, one of his assistant coaches, cited another explanation. "My impression is that he has prepared himself to be a head coach," Haskell said of Holmgren. "Many people get head coaching jobs that never expected to get them. He didn't...He's been planning this for some time."

Holmgren, who at 6-feet-5 inevitably cuts an imposing figure (he is the tallest head coach in Packer history), became the eleventh head coach in club history when he was signed to a five-year contract on January 11, 1992, by Ron Wolf, the Packers' executive vice president and general manager.

A 22-year coaching veteran, the 45-year-old Holmgren was sought after by no fewer than six National Football League clubs following the 1991 season in recognition of his accomplishments as offensive coordinator for the 49ers.

Earlier quarterbacks coach under the celebrated Bill Walsh for three seasons, he became San Francisco's offensive coordinator in 1989 and proceeded to put his personal stamp on the club's attack. Under him, the 49er offense ranked no lower than third in the league in his three years as coordinator.

As a member of the 49ers' coaching staff since 1986, Holmgren was identified with one of the most successful organizations in NFL history, San Francisco having swept to five consecutive NFC Western Division championships (1986-90) and to a pair of back-to-back Super Bowl victories (in 1988 and 1989) during his six-year tenure with the team.

Over this span, the 49ers compiled the NFL's best overall record, posting 71 wins compared to only 23 losses, with one tie, a .753 percentage.

Individually, Holmgren did perhaps the finest coaching job of his career in 1991. Despite losing quarterbacks Joe Montana and Steve Young to injuries, the 49er offense finished third in the NFL under his leadership. With third-string quarterback Steve Bono taking over for the injured Young, who had replaced an injured Montana at the start of the season, the 49ers won five of their last six games.

The ability to win with three different quarterbacks, a major achievement, helped to make Holmgren the NFL's most sought-after assistant as head coaching opportunities began to develop following the '91 season.

Under his direction, the 49er offense had been the top-rated unit in the league in 1989, his first season as the 49ers' offensive coordinator. In 1987, Holmgren's guidance was credited with helping Montana capture his first league passing championship. He also was cited for the manner in which he prepared Young to step in for Montana when injuries forced the latter to the sideline, and the adjustments he implemented to help Bono succeed in his interim role.

A native of San Francisco, Holmgren had returned home in 1986 to take on his first coaching assignment in the professional ranks. He came to the 49ers from Brigham Young, where he had been a member of LaVell Edwards' staff for four years (1982-85). There, he tutored Robbie Bosco, a Packer draft selection in 1986, and Steve Young in his role as quarterbacks coach, helping the Cougars to maintain one of college football's most potent passing offenses. During Holmgren's tenure, BYU won the school's first national championship in 1984.

Holmgren also has known personal success on the football field, having been named 1965's "Prep Athlete of the Year" at San Francisco's Lincoln High School. A quarterback, he went on to play four years of college football at the University of Southern California (1966-69) and was drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals in the eighth round of the 1970 NFL selection meeting. He subsequently was in training camp with both the Cardinals and the New York Jets that year, prior to returning to his high school alma mater, Lincoln High, to begin his coaching career in 1971.

A year later, Holmgren went to San Francisco's Sacred Heart High for the 1972-74 seasons, struggling through 4-and-24 adversity at a school which had no practice facilities, before moving to Oak Grove High from 1975-80, a period during which the school won a Central Coast Sectional football championship.

The Packers' future head coach next entered the college ranks, serving as quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator for San Francisco State in 1981, preceding his hiring at Brigham Young in 1982.

Of Swedish-Norwegian descent, the Packers' field leader was born Michael George Holmgren on June 15, 1948, in San Francisco. Following graduation from Lincoln High School, he earned his bachelor of science degree at USC in 1970.

Mike and his wife, Kathy, have four daughters — twins Calla and Jenny, 19 (born 9/27/73), sophomores at North Park College in Chicago (their mother's alma mater); Emily, 16 (born 1/21/77), an Ashwaubenon High School student; and Gretchen, 12 (born 7/14/81), a Park View Middle School (Ashwaubenon) student.

Although a new resident, Holmgren has Wisconsin ties. His maternal grandfather, Jens Bugge, was born on a farm in the Badger state. Known as "Colonel" in the family because of his service as an officer in the United States Army, Bugge was the author of a book on military strategy, a copy of which reposes in the West Point library.

Away from football, Holmgren spends most of his leisure time with his family. Golf is his favorite pastime and he also is fond of reading, particularly historical books, having been a history teacher at the high school level.

Already substantially involved in the Green Bay community and his adopted state, he has seen his Mike Holmgren Celebrity Invitational Golf Tournament raise more than $25,000 for the Packer 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis) each of the past two years. Holmgren also served as honorary chairman for the Wisconsin Arthritis Foundation's telethon in 1992 and 1993, in addition to acting as a fund-raising spokesperson for the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay's new Weidner Center for the Performing Arts.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Sherman Lewis

Offensive Coordinator

Upon arriving in Green Bay in 1992, Sherman Lewis brought to his key role as offensive coordinator an impressive coaching pedigree, having helped the San Francisco 49ers develop one of the most productive attacks in National Football League history en route to three Super Bowl victories.

His expertise paid immediate and practical dividends. The Packer offense he coordinated proceeded to produce 4,786 yards, the most by a Green Bay offensive unit since 1989. Moving the chains consistently, the Green and Gold registered 291 first downs along the way, compared to 259 a year earlier.

Named to the Packer staff by new Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 18, 1992, the 51-year-old Louisville, Ky., native had been a member of the 49er staff since 1983, the first six seasons as running backs coach, the last three as receivers coach under then-49er Offensive Coordinator Holmgren.

His Packer responsibilities last season also included coaching the receivers, among them record-breaking Sterling Sharpe, duties he has turned over to Jon Gruden in preparation for the 1993 campaign.

With the 49ers, Lewis helped hone the pass-catching and route-running skills of running backs Roger Craig, a four-time Pro Bowler, and Tom Rathman, in addition to those of Pro Bowl receivers Jerry Rice and John Taylor, among others.

Lewis had been an assistant coach at his alma mater, Michigan State, for 14 seasons prior to joining the 49ers under Bill Walsh, serving as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for his final three years at MSU. Originally hired by the late Hugh "Duffy" Dougherty, he subsequently served on the staffs of Denny Stolz, Darryl Rogers and Frank "Muddy" Waters.

Sherman earlier had been a two-way All-America halfback at Michigan State, where he was second runner-up for the 1963 Heisman Trophy (behind Roger Staubach of Navy and Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech) and named Football News "Player of the Year."

Lewis also was a standout track and field performer for the Spartans. He later earned his master's degree in educational administration from MSU in 1974.

Sherman, born in Louisville June 29, 1942, and his wife, Toni, have two sons, Kip (born 2/6/67), a former University of Arizona football player who was a 1991 standout for the New York/New Jersey Knights of the World League of American Football, and Eric (born 1/2/76).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1969-82 (Michigan State); 1983-91 (San Francisco 49ers); 1992-1993 (Green Bay Packers).

Ray Rhodes

Defensive Coordinator

After just one season as the Packers' defensive coordinator, Ray Rhodes has attracted significant attention around the National Football League for his attacking style of defense, eliciting interviews and/or mention for head coaching positions with other clubs as the 1992 campaign came to a close.

Head Coach Mike Holmgren, the man who brought the purposeful Texan with him from San Francisco a year ago, was not surprised. He calls Rhodes, now in his 13th season as an NFL coach, "the best teacher I've ever been around, bar none," and has predicted Rhodes will get a head coaching job in the near future.

Holmgren, a coaching colleague on the San Francisco 49ers' staff for six years prior to coming to Green Bay, named the former University of Tulsa athlete to his new Packer staff on January 18, 1992 — exactly one week after taking over as Green Bay's head coach.

ASSISTANT COACHES

The 42-year-old Rhodes had played defensive back for the 49ers in 1980 before joining the San Francisco coaching staff under Bill Walsh the following year. He previously had spent six seasons with the New York Giants, for whom he had played both offense and defense, from 1974 through 1979.

During Rhodes' San Francisco coaching tenure, the 49ers became one of the great dynasties in recent pro football history, capturing four Super Bowl victories over the past decade.

Over that period, he developed four Pro Bowl defenders, cornerbacks Ronnie Lott and Eric Wright and safeties Dwight Hicks and Carlton Williamson.

Drafted out of the University of Tulsa by the New York Giants in 1974's tenth round, Rhodes played wide receiver for his first three seasons before being transferred to defensive back in 1977. He led all National Football Conference receivers in average yards per catch (20.7) in 1975.

A running back at Texas Christian before ending his career at Tulsa as a wide receiver, running back and kick returner, Rhodes also earned college letters in track and field.

A native of Mexia, Texas, Ray was born October 20, 1950. He and his wife, Carmen, have four daughters: Detra (born 11/4/70), Candra (born 5/25/76), Tynesha (born 9/10/79) and Raven (born 5/23/85).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1981-91 (San Francisco 49ers); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

Greg Blache

Defensive Line

Greg Blache, the Packers' highly articulate defensive line coach, found his calling early. Today recognized by both players and coaching peers as an outstanding teacher, Greg settled upon his life's work through a quirk of the football fates, which capriciously intervened to make a career decision for him while he was a sophomore in college.

Blache entered the coaching profession unexpectedly when a lower leg injury suffered in freshman football at Notre Dame abruptly ended his playing career.

The professional impetus came from the legendary Ara Parseghian, then head coach of the Fighting Irish, under whom Greg became a student assistant coach as a sophomore, tutoring Notre Dame's freshman defensive backfield for the next three seasons.

Blache subsequently remained on Parseghian's staff as a graduate assistant following graduation and later was named a full-time aide in 1973. He continued in that capacity under new head coach Dan Devine in 1975 before moving a year later to Tulane, where he first encountered former Packers head coach Lindy Infante, then on the Green Wave staff.

Greg returned to Notre Dame in 1981, serving as running back coach that season before taking over the defensive line and linebackers in 1982. Two years later, he joined Infante's Jacksonville Bulls staff. Following the demise of the United States Football League, Blache coached at Southern University in 1986 and at Kansas in 1987. He had just moved to the University of North Carolina early in 1988 when Infante invited him to join the Packer staff (February 15).

Blache, an ardent hunter and fisherman, was born March 9, 1949. A popular and sought-after member of the Packers' off-season speakers' bureau — he frequently is asked to make repeat appearances, from year to year, before groups which have heard him for the first time — Greg is the father of three children: Greg, Jr., 23, Christopher, 17, who is a freshman at Rice University, and Corinne, a high school junior.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1973-75 and 1981-83 (Notre Dame); 1976-80 (Tulane); 1984-85 (Jacksonville Bulls, USFL); 1986 (Southern University); 1987 (Kansas); 1988-93 (Green Bay Packers).

ASSISTANT COACHES

Nolan Cromwell

Special Teams

Nolan Cromwell, who enjoyed one of the more distinguished playing careers in recent National Football League history prior to joining the coaching fraternity, dramatically improved the Packers' kick coverage in 1992, his first year as Green Bay's special teams coordinator.

Cromwell's kickoff coverage unit turned in an outstanding season-long performance, emerging as the leader of the National Football Conference with an average yield of only 15.8 yards per return, a mark which ranked second in the NFL as a whole. A year earlier, the same unit ranked 10th in the NFC and 23rd in the league.

The punt coverage team also fared well, finishing sixth in the NFC and 15th in the league as a whole with an average yield of 8.8 yards per return. In 1991, the Packers finished 13th in the NFC and 24th in the NFL in punt coverage.

The Packers' punt and kickoff return units also performed respectably, emerging 8th in the NFC and 16th in the NFL in the former and 12th in the NFC and 18th in the NFL in KOR.

Cromwell, now in his third year as a coach, was a four-time Pro Bowler as a Los Angeles Rams safety during an 11-year tenure as a mainstay in the Rams' secondary (1977-87).

Cromwell subsequently launched his coaching career in 1991 as defensive and special teams assistant on Coach John Robinson's Rams staff.

An All-America quarterback at the University of Kansas, Nolan was named to the Pro Bowl following the 1980, '81, '82 and '83 seasons. He ended his playing career as the Rams' all-time leader in interception return yardage with 671 yards on 37 interceptions, the latter total ranking second in Rams history to Eddie Meador's 46 thefts.

The 38-year-old Kansan also was a standout special teams player, serving as holder for extra points and field goals and scoring three rushing touchdowns on fake field goal attempts.

In addition to being a four-time Pro Bowl honoree, Nolan was named NFC Defensive Player of the Year by the Kansas City Committee of 101 in 1980. He also was chosen NFL Defensive Back of the Year in 1984 by Football Digest.

As a collegian, Cromwell was accorded All-America honors as a junior quarterback in the Kansas wishbone offense.

Following retirement as a player in 1987 and prior to re-joining the Rams as a coach in 1991, Cromwell owned and operated three tire stores in the Los Angeles area.

Nolan, who was born in Smith Center, Kan., on January 30, 1955, and his wife, Mary, have two children, Lance (born 6/15/86) and Jennifer (born 4/13/88).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1991 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

Jon Gruden

Wide Receivers

Youthful Jon Gruden, who was on the sunny side of 30 when 1993's training camp opened, has made rapid strides in the coaching field. Promoted to wide receivers coach by Head Coach Mike Holmgren in the off-season, he had been offensive assistant/quality control in 1992, his first year on the Packer coaching staff.

Gruden's early success may be attributable in part to being born into a football family. His father, Jim, is a regional scout for the San Francisco 49ers and formerly served as backfield coach under John McKay with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Starting with the 1988 season, when he was passing game coordinator at Southeast Missouri State, Jon's arrival on the Green Bay staff a year ago marked his fifth stop in five years. He coached the wide receivers at the University of Pacific in 1989, then served as an offensive assistant with the 49ers during the '90 season, a position in which he worked closely with Holmgren, the 49ers' offensive coordinator at the time.

Jon, the youngest member of Holmgren's staff, made another career move in 1991, joining Head Coach Paul Hackett's staff at the University of Pittsburgh to tutor the wide receivers.

Named to the Packer staff by Holmgren on January 27, 1992, Gruden was a three-year letterman at the University of Dayton, graduating from that institution in 1985. He prepared for his coaching career by spending two seasons (1986-87) as a graduate assistant at the University of Tennessee.

Jon, born August 17, 1963, is married to the former Cindy Brooks, a one-time cheerleader at the University of Tennessee.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1986-87 (Tennessee, graduate assistant); 1988 (Southeast Missouri State); 1989 (Pacific); 1990 (San Francisco 49ers); 1991 (University of Pittsburgh); 1992-1993 (Green Bay Packers).

Gil Haskell

Running Backs

Gil Haskell, a San Francisco native who has had consistent success as both a running backs and special teams coach over a 10-year span, is launching his second decade as a National Football League coach.

Named to the Packer coaching staff January 27, 1992, by Head Coach Mike Holmgren following nine years under Coach John Robinson with the Los Angeles Rams, Haskell made his presence felt in his first Green Bay season. Vince Workman, his prize protege, appeared to be en route to the first 1,000-yard rushing season by a Packer running back since 1978 when he suffered a season-ending shoulder injury in Game 10 against Philadelphia. Under his tutelage, rookie Edgar Bennett also became the first Green Bay rookie to register a 100-yard rushing game in 13 years.

Prior to joining the Packers, Haskell coached the Rams' special teams for the first four of those seasons (1983-86), the running backs for the next four and concluded his tenure in 1991 by tutoring the tight ends and re-assuming the special teams responsibilities.

As running backs coach, Haskell had significant success, two Rams backs rushing for 1,000 yards in three of the four seasons he coached the position. Charles White gained 1,374 yards in 1987 and Greg Bell rushed for 1,212 in 1988 and 1,137 in 1989.

Earlier, under Haskell's guidance, Rams special teams ranked among the NFL's finest, emerging with the league's No. 1 ranking in both 1984 and 1985, his second and third years in charge. Three of his players also were named to the Pro Bowl — kickoff returner Ron Brown and punt returner Henry Ellard in 1984 and punter Dale Hatcher in 1985.

During that four-year span, only one opponent scored a touchdown on a kickoff or punt return while the Rams, conversely, had impressive success, returning nine kicks for scores.

Haskell joined the Rams' staff in 1983 after serving as Robinson's special teams coach for five seasons at USC, a period during which he also was the Trojans' receivers coach for two seasons.

Prior to signing on at USC, Haskell coached at San Francisco's St. Ignatius High School for nine years, the last five as head coach. In the latter role, he compiled an imposing 34-15 won-lost record. He also served as track coach for four years, winning three Catholic Athletic League titles.

Haskell launched his coaching career at Riordan High School, also in San Francisco, serving as line coach for three years while also coaching the track team and winning three Catholic Athletic League championships.

Born in San Francisco September 24, 1943, Gil has long standing ties to the NFL. An uncle, the late Dr. William O'Grady, was a part owner of the San Francisco 49ers and, before going to USC in 1978, Haskell had worked with the 49ers for 22 years.

Gil is married to the former Nancy Van Acker, who served as speakers' bureau and entertainment coordinator for the Rams before moving to Green Bay.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Dick Jauron

Defensive Backs

His coaching/teaching skills and his extensive knowledge of the game, much of the latter gleaned from a distinguished playing career in the NFL, have brought Dick Jauron league-wide respect.

Now in his eighth season on the staff, Jauron is the senior member of Green Bay's coaching staff in point of Packer service, having originally entered the Green Bay organization in 1986 under then-Head Coach Forrest Gregg.

Subsequently retained in 1988 by Lindy Infante when Infante succeeded Gregg, he in 1992 joined the staff of then-new Head Coach Mike Holmgren, who described him as "a quality coach and individual who has earned league-wide respect for the consistent and productive performance of the Packer secondary."

Over his seven seasons, Jauron's secondaries have registered a total of 129 interceptions, 25 of them in 1989 when Green Bay finished fourth in the National Football Conference in this category.

The Packer "outfield" embellished its '89 efforts by allowing the collective opposition just four 100-yard receiving days — or an average of one every four games — two of those to pass-receiving nonpareil Jerry Rice of the 49ers and the Vikings' gifted Anthony Carter. In 1990, Jauron's secondary permitted only six 100-yard receiving days — just four of those over the last 15 games.

Earlier, in 1987, the Yale alumnus produced a defensive backfield which ranked among the league's elite in another major category — preventing the "bomb." It gave up only 14 touchdown passes, a season-long performance which ranked second only to that of the 49ers, who permitted a league-low 13.

Jauron began his coaching career in 1985 as a member of the Buffalo Bills' staff under Hank Bullough, then Buffalo's head coach.

The 42-year-old Peoria, Ill., native, who still ranks as one of Yale's all-time football greats, was a fourth-round draft selection of the Detroit Lions in 1973 and was named to the Pro Bowl as a defensive back following the '74 season. Released by the Lions August 23, 1978, he signed with Cincinnati six days later and was a Bengal starter until he suffered a knee injury in Game 10 of the '80 season.

Jauron made 26 interceptions over his eight pro seasons, including a career-high six for Cincinnati in 1979, and returned two of them for touchdowns.

Born Richard Manual Jauron in Peoria on October 7, 1950, he later was a nine-letter winner at Swampscott (Mass.) High School. An offensive back as a collegian, he still owns Yale's career rushing record (2,947 yards in 515 attempts, a 5.7-yard average).

Dick and his wife, Gail, are the parents of two daughters, Kacy (born 4/2/85) and Amy (born 10/3/86).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1985 (Buffalo Bills); 1986-1993 (Green Bay Packers).

Kent Johnston

Strength and Conditioning

Kent Johnston, in his second year with the Packers after a five-season stay on the Tampa Bay staff, has made a substantial impact on the Green and Gold in a relatively short time.

Implementing a comprehensive program upon his arrival in Green Bay, including weight control and nutrition as well as conditioning, he has contributed in areas beyond his customary domain, the weight room. He has been credited with rendering valuable assistance in the rehabbing of injured players while also helping with advice and guidance on nutrition.

Since joining the Packers, Johnston has structured specific training programs for each player, as he did at Tampa Bay, where he implemented karate as a segment of the Bucs' conditioning regimen. In the process, he also has initiated karate classes as an element of the Packers' conditioning program.

ASSISTANT COACHES

The soft-spoken Texan also has traveled around the country this off-season to monitor the conditioning progress of those players who do not live in the Green Bay area on a year-around basis, an itinerary which Head Coach Mike Holmgren expects to pay off in improved endurance and on-field performance during the 1993 season.

Johnston earlier earned high marks as a strength and conditioning coach at the University of Alabama under then-Head Coach Ray Perkins in 1985 and 1986, when the Crimson Tide's weight program was regarded as one of the nation's finest. The athletes he developed during that span include premier linebackers Cornelius Bennett (Buffalo Bills) and Derrick Thomas (Kansas City Chiefs) and such NBA performers as Buck Johnson (Houston Rockets), Derrick McKey (Seattle SuperSonics) and Michael Ansley (Orlando Magic).

Kent launched his coaching career in 1978 at Teague (Texas) High School as an assistant coach before signing on at Northwestern (La.) State in 1979. He next moved to Northeast Louisiana as strength coach in 1980 before returning to the prep ranks at Willis (Texas) High School in 1982. In 1983, he joined Perkins' University of Alabama staff as a graduate assistant for two seasons (1983-84) before being named strength and conditioning coach in 1985. When Perkins became head coach at Tampa Bay in 1987, Johnston joined his Buccaneer staff.

A graduate of Stephen F. Austin University, he played defensive back in football en route to earning his bachelor's degree in physical education and history. He secured his master's degree in physical education from Alabama in 1984.

Born in Mexia, Texas, February 21, 1956, Allen Kent Johnston graduated from Mexia High School (also the alma mater of Packer defensive coordinator Ray Rhodes), where he participated in football, tennis and track. Kent and his wife, Pam, have two sons, Kody (born 5/30/90) and Kole (born 5/7/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1979 (Northwestern La. State); 1980-81 (Northeast Louisiana); 1983-84 (Alabama, graduate assistant); 1985-86 (Alabama); 1987-91 (Tampa Bay Buccaneers); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

Jim Lind

Defensive Assistant/Quality Control

Jim Lind spent nine years as a head coach in the college ranks before joining the Packer staff in 1992.

The 45-year-old Isle, Minn., native, named to the position of defensive assistant/quality control by Head Coach Mike Holmgren March 25, 1992, is teamed with Holmgren for a second time. They previously had coached together in 1982 when the Packer head coach was a member of LaVell Edwards' staff at Brigham Young University and Lind a graduate assistant.

Head coach at the University of Minnesota-Morris from 1983 through 1986, Jim directed the UMM Cougars to two championships in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference.

In the process, he was named NIC "Coach of the Year" in 1984 and NAIA District 13 "Coach of the Year" in 1986. Lind served as head coach at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire from 1987 through 1991.

The Packer aide began his college coaching career at St. Cloud (Minn.) State, where he was a graduate assistant in 1977 and offensive coordinator in 1978. He moved to St. John's University (Minn.) in 1979, serving as defensive coordinator under John Gagliardi.

Earlier, Lind entered his profession in 1974 at Underwood (Minn.) High School, where he took over a team which had won one game the previous year and subsequently produced a Little Eight Conference championship in his first season.

Born November 11, 1947, Lind played football and participated in track at Isle (Minn.) High School. He later played linebacker for one year at Bethel College and defensive back for two years at Bemidji (Minn.) State, from which he received his undergraduate degree. Lind subsequently earned his master's degree at St. Cloud State and defended his dissertation and completed his doctorate in Professional Leadership in Physical Education and Athletics at BYU in 1987.

Jim and his wife, Cindy, have two sons, Erik (born 1/6/87) and Bryan (born 1/31/90).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1977 (St. Cloud State, graduate assistant); 1978 (St. Cloud State); 1979-1980 (St. John's University); 1981-82 (Brigham Young, graduate assistant); 1983-86 (Minnesota-Morris, head coach); 1987-91 (Wisconsin-Eau Claire, head coach); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

ASSISTANT COACHES

Tom Lovat

Offensive Line

Tom Lovat, now in his second tour of duty with the Packers, made a major contribution to the cause upon his return to the Green Bay coaching staff in 1992.

The 13-year National Football League coaching veteran, the first assistant to be hired by then-new Head Coach Mike Holmgren (January 14, 1992), molded the offensive line into a consistent, well-coordinated unit despite injury problems which caused starting left guard Rich Moran to miss half the season and incumbent center James Campen to sit out three games.

The Packer offense ranked among the league leaders in both third- and fourth-down efficiency, a development traceable in no small measure to the performance of Lovat's line.

The genial Utah native, a 27-year coaching veteran and a member of the Phoenix Cardinals' staff prior to re-joining the Packers, previously served as a Green Bay's offensive line assistant (to Ernie McMillan) in 1980 under Bart Starr.

Well respected for his teaching skills, Lovat launched his coaching career at the University of Utah in 1967 while completing his master's degree, received in 1968.

He moved on to Idaho State and then to Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League, taking on his first professional assignment as defensive coach for the Roughriders in 1971.

Lovat returned to Utah as an assistant in 1972 and later was named the school's head coach in 1974, a position he held through the 1976 season. He then moved to Stanford, where he was a member of the Bill Walsh staff from 1977 through 1979, before signing on with the Packers for the first time in 1980.

Lovat next joined the Cardinals for the first time in 1981, serving as offensive line coach through the 1984 season. He then became assistant head coach-offense for the Colts, holding the position from 1985 through 1988 under Ron Meyer, the Colts leading the American Football Conference in rushing in 1985 under his direction.

Tom subsequently spent the 1989 season as offensive line coach at the University of Wyoming before re-joining the Cardinals in 1990. That '90 season, his offensive line allowed only 43 quarterback sacks, the lowest total by the Cardinals in 11 seasons and one, oddly enough, that the Phoenix forward wall matched in 1991. In the '90 process, Lovat's line paved the way for rookie running back Johnny Johnson to earn Pro Bowl honors.

Lovat is a 1961 graduate of the University of Utah, where he was a three-year football and baseball letterman for the Utes, earning All-Skyline Conference honors in baseball.

Tom, who was born in Bingham Canyon, Utah, December 28, 1938, and his wife, Lyn, have three children: a daughter Johna Rae Griese, 30, and two sons, Matthew, 26, and Mark, 23.

Steve Mariucci

Quarterbacks

There is a storybook quality about the odyssey which brought Steve Mariucci to Green Bay as a member of the Packer coaching staff. A Packer fan from early on in his native Iron Mountain, Mich., he subsequently became a record-setting college quarterback and later established himself in the coaching profession in far away California before returning to his home area as quarterbacks coach of the Packers.

Named to the Green Bay staff by then-new Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 27, 1992, Mariucci had spent the previous five seasons on the University of California-Berkeley's staff — the first three tutoring the wide receivers and special teams, the last two as offensive coordinator — following other assistant coaching positions in the college ranks at USC, Louisville, Cal State-Fullerton, and at his alma mater, Northern Michigan.

Along the way, he also put in a season as wide receivers/tight ends coach for the Orlando Renegades of the United States Football League and another as quality control coach on John Robinson's Los Angeles Rams staff, both in 1985.

Last season, in his first year as quarterbacks coach on the Packer staff, Mariucci played a key role in the development of Brett Favre, the youthful signal-caller acquired in an off-season trade with Atlanta. Under Mariucci's tutelage, Favre at 23 became the youngest quarterback ever to play in the Pro Bowl, setting a Packer single-season record for passing percentage (64.11) in the process and leading the Green and Gold to all nine of their victories after replacing the injured Don Majkowski in Game 3.

A star quarterback at Iron Mountain High School and Northern Michigan University, Mariucci started as a freshman at Northern after injuries felled the first four quarterbacks on the Wildcats' roster. As a sophomore in 1975, he led Northern to the Division II national championship.

Named a Division II All-America quarterback in both 1976 and '77, Mariucci was chosen the Wildcats' Most Valuable Player in three of his four seasons and closed out his collegiate career with 14 school passing records. He finished eighth in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy in 1976, the year Tony Dorsett received the honor. In 1988, Mariucci was named to the Northern Michigan Hall of Fame.

One of the highlights of Mariucci's boyhood came when he won a Green Bay Packer jacket for taking first place in a Punt, Pass and Kick contest when he was 10 years old.

"I was so proud of it," he recalls. "I was afraid to get it ruined. I barely wore it. I saved it."

Born November 4, 1955, Mariucci and his wife, Gayle, have three sons — Tyler (born 11/28/84), Adam (born 8/23/86) and Stephen (born 2/3/89).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1978-79 (Northern Michigan); 1980-82 (Cal State-Fullerton); 1983-84 (Louisville); 1985 (Orlando Renegades, USFL); 1985 (Los Angeles Rams); 1986 (Southern California); 1987-1991 (California); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

Andy Reid

Tight Ends/Assistant Offensive Line

Massive Andy Reid, who built a reputation for developing outstanding offensive lines while in the college ranks, gained new coaching credentials in a more specific role last season as the Packers' tight end coach, his first year at the pro level.

Under his demanding, yet nurturing tutelage, youthful Jackie Harris matured into one of the premier tight ends in the National Football League. The third-year pro caught 55 passes, a total surpassed by only Jay Novacek of the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys, and just one short of the Packers' all-time single-season record for a tight end.

The 35-year-old Reid, who had been offensive line coach at the University of Missouri since 1989, was named to the Packer staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 21, 1992, to assist Tom Lovat with the offensive line in addition to coaching the tight ends.

Quality pass-blocking offensive lines, in both the Division I and II ranks, had been Reid's hallmark since launching his coaching career at San Francisco State in 1983. The school led the nation in passing offense and total offense for three consecutive years (1983-84-85) while he served as offensive coordinator, offensive line coach and strength coach.

Reid moved to Northern Arizona as offensive line coach in 1986, then to Texas-El Paso in 1987. When Bob Stull took over as head coach at Missouri in 1988, he joined Stull's Tiger staff. Andy received his coaching start at his alma mater, Brigham Young, as a graduate assistant under LaVell Edwards in 1982.

An offensive tackle/guard on three Holiday Bowl teams as a collegian, Reid earned three varsity football letters at BYU, graduating with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He also received a master's degree in Professional Leadership in Physical Education and Athletics.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Andy, born in Los Angeles March 19, 1958, and his wife, Tammy, have five children: Garrett (born 4/13/83), Britt (born 4/28/85), Crosby (born 3/17/88), Drew Ann (born 3/9/90), and Spencer (born 6/9/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1982 (Brigham Young, graduate assistant); 1983-85 (San Francisco State); 1986 (Northern Arizona); 1987 (Texas-El Paso); 1988-1991 (Missouri); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

Bob Valesente

Linebackers

Bob Valesente, now in his 32nd year in his chosen profession, has done it all, vocationally speaking, having coached at every level — high school, college and professional.

Along the way, the 53-year-old Seneca Falls, N.Y., native has had extensive teaching experience on both sides of the football — as a head coach, assistant head coach and offensive or defensive coordinator for seven colleges and universities.

Bob, who joined the Packer staff in 1992 after two seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is on his third NFL coaching assignment. In addition to his tour of duty with the Steelers, he previously had been secondary/special teams coach for the Baltimore Colts in 1982-83.

Valesente began his coaching career at Ithaca (N.Y.) High School in 1962. He left the coaching profession temporarily after one year to play professional baseball for the Chicago Cubs organization in 1963 and '64. Valesente then launched his college coaching career at Cornell University as freshman defensive coordinator in 1964. After 10 seasons at Cornell, the last five as varsity secondary coach, he moved to the University of Cincinnati as secondary coach in 1975, then to Arizona (1977-79) and to Mississippi State in 1980 as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach.

Valesente (the name is pronounced VAL-uh-SEN-tee) then received his first NFL coaching opportunity at Baltimore in 1982, subsequently returning to the college ranks as assistant head coach/quarterbacks coach at the University of Kansas in 1984. He later was named head coach in 1986, then spent one year as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Maryland in 1988 before joining the University of Pittsburgh staff. During Bob's tenure at Kansas, the Jayhawks set numerous passing records.

Bob was named linebackers coach for the Steelers by then-Head Coach Chuck Noll March 9, 1990, after serving as assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at Pitt in 1989. Under his tutelage, both David Little and Greg Lloyd blossomed into All-Pro performers, helping the Steelers earn the league's No. 1 overall ranking on defense in 1990.

A graduate of Ithaca College, Valesente played halfback on the football varsity and was a catcher/outfielder for the baseball team that reached the 1962 College World Series. Drafted by the Chicago Cubs, he played at the Class A level in 1963-64.

Valesente, a member of the Ithaca College Hall of Fame, graduated in 1962 with a bachelor's degree in physical education, subsequently earning his master's degree from the same institution in 1965.

Bob, born in Seneca Falls, N.Y., on July 19, 1940, and his wife, Joan, have three children — a son, Rob, 25, and two daughters, Ginger Valesente Weekly, 27, and Michelle, 13.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1964-74 (Cornell); 1975-76 (University of Cincinnati); 1977-79 (Arizona); 1980-81 (Mississippi State); 1982-83 (Baltimore Colts); 1984-87 (Kansas, head coach 1986-87); 1988 (Maryland); 1989 (University of Pittsburgh); 1990-91 (Pittsburgh Steelers); 1992-93 (Green Bay Packers).

90 Tony Bennett

Linebacker • Mississippi • 4th Year

Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 243 • Born: 7/1/67 • Acq: D1a-90

PRO: Bright, versatile and highly athletic, Tony Bennett is poised to take his place among the National Football League's linebacking elite after two impressively productive years as a starter...The Packers' sack leader in both seasons, he already has elicited the ultimate compliment from Linebackers Coach Bob Valesente, who says of him, "Tony's a linebacker who can do it all. He can rush the passer, he can play in coverage; he plays well against the run — he neutralizes blockers and comes off and makes the play; he's strong — he's a very physical player; and he's very smart and instinctive. Tony had a Pro Bowl year last year when he had 13½ sacks. I can just see him getting better and better every year. He studies the game and he's always ready. His work ethic is outstanding and he has an outstanding commitment to what his job is. He's a real pro."...A highly motivated athlete, Bennett says of himself, "My goal each game for me is to play the defense that is called as hard as I can — and basically to eliminate any mental errors. And also to make as many big plays as I can."...1992: A big play performer, he not only led the Packer defense in sacks — his 13½ tied him with New Orleans' Rickey Jackson for sixth place in the National Football Conference — but also in forced fumbles (4) and fumble recoveries (3), returning one of the latter for his first pro touchdown vs. the Detroit Lions at Milwaukee (Dec. 6)...In his primary role as the Packers' "elephant" linebacker, he also finished third on the team (behind Johnny Holland and Chuck Cecil) with 91 total tackles, 52 of them unassisted...Started all 16 games for second straight year — 12 at ROLB and 4 at RE...Named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for November...Began regular season where he left off in '91, registering 2 sacks and recovering 1 fumble vs. Minnesota in opener (Sept. 6)...Made career-high 10 tackles in Week 3 vs. Cincinnati...Posted 9 tackles and 1 sack at Atlanta on Oct. 4...Had biggest pass rush day of year at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8), forging 3½ sacks — a personal career best — and forcing 1 fumble...One week earlier, had recorded 1½ sacks at Detroit... Contributed 5 tackles and 1 sack vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 29)...In addition to his 18-yard fumble return for a touchdown in Lions rematch, added 1 sack and forced 1 fumble...Had a sack, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery vs. Minnesota in season finale (Dec. 27)...1991: Amassed 13 sacks to share third place honors in the NFC with Eagles' Clyde Simmons after stepping in at right outside linebacker when Tim Harris held out and subsequently was traded...Recorded 11 sacks in the last 10 games of the season...Started all 16 games at ROLB and finished third on the team with 111 total tackles (70 solo) and forced 3 fumbles to share team honors in latter category with Bryce Paup...Also posted 4 special teams tackles overall (3 solo)...Three times registered 2-sack efforts — against the Bears Oct. 17, at Tampa Bay Oct. 27 and vs. Indianapolis Nov. 24...Made season-high 9 tackles on four occasions — at Rams (Sept. 29), vs. Minnesota (Nov. 17), vs. Colts (Nov. 24) and vs. Lions (Dec. 15)...Embellished his efforts against Detroit with 1½ sacks, 4 pressures, 3 tackles for loss and 1 forced fumble...Also forced a fumble vs. Indianapolis, in addition to 2 tackles for loss, 4 pressures and his 2 sacks...1990: Recorded 3 sacks, the most by a Packer rookie linebacker since Harris had 7½ in his first NFL season in 1986...Played in 14 games with no starts — he was inactive for two-late season contests, Seattle and Philadelphia, with a sprained ankle...Made 13 total tackles (8 solo), forced 1 fumble and knocked down 1 pass...Also was substantial contributor on special teams with 7 tackles (5 solo)...Ranked as team's fourth-best special teams player under point system...Finished season on an upcurve, making 5 tackles and forcing a Barry Sanders fumble vs. Detroit on Dec. 22 and, one week later, stuffing Denver QB Gary Kubiak for an 11-yard sack on a fake field goal attempt in fourth quarter of the season finale (Dec. 30)...Had registered his first NFL sack — a 2-yard drop of Rams' Jim Everett — in Green Bay's season opener (Sept. 9)...Also had a sack of Vinny

Wide Receiver • South Carolina • 2nd Year

Ht: 6-0 • Wt: 174 • Born: 6/23/70 • Acq: D3-92

PRO: Possessor of abundant and impressive skills, he remains a prime candidate — in the eyes of Offensive Coordinator Sherman Lewis, among others — to become the long-sought complement to Sterling Sharpe at wide receiver...“Robert has made big strides since last year, as he has shown in our mini-camps,” says Lewis. “He’s got all the things you look for in a wide receiver. He’s got all the tools — excellent speed, good hands, excellent body control. He runs excellent routes. He does a solid job of putting pressure on the defender — he comes out real hard — and he runs well with the ball after the catch. And he also learns well — he picks up things fast, so he should be a legitimate contender for that ‘X’ receiver position. He’s a competitor and I expect him to really compete for the job.”...1992: Played in all 16 games, making one start...Caught 12 passes overall for 126 yards and 1 touchdown to rank 9th on team...Finished second among both Packer punt and kickoff returners, averaging 9.3 yards for 11 punt returns and 18.8 yards for 18 kickoff runbacks...Caught first career TD pass vs. Pittsburgh Sept. 27, an 8-yard slant and fade, beating Steelers’ Rod Woodson in fourth quarter...Earlier had seen action at WR vs. Minnesota (Sept. 6) in 3- and 4-receiver sets, starting as Packers opened game with 3 WRs...Had a career-long, 22-yard punt return vs. Detroit on Dec. 6...Third-round draft choice (62nd overall) of Packers in 1992.

COLLEGE: Set South Carolina career receiving record with 19 touchdown catches, surpassing Sterling Sharpe’s previous mark of 17...Also established all-time SC record with 76 career kickoff returns...Ranks second (to Sharpe) in school history in career receptions (156) and receiving yards (2,211)...A four-year starter and letter-winner (1988-91) for Gamecocks, he also lettered three years in track...Led team in receiving all four years, including a career-high 55 catches (for 684 yards, 5 TDs) as a senior...Earned B.S. degree in retailing.

27 Terrell Buckley

Cornerback • Florida State • 2nd Year

Ht: 5-9 • Wt: 174 • Born: 6/7/71 • Acq: D1-92

PRO: One of the most heralded and loquacious athletes ever to reach the pro football scene, Terrell Buckley is counted upon to maximize his abundant potential this season after having his rookie year "abbreviated" by a contractual stalemate...Despite missing training camp and the first two games of the regular season, he later was able to make a substantial impact, emerging as the team's leader in passes defended and returning an interception and a punt for touchdowns along the way...Dick Jauron, Buckley's position coach, is expecting major contributions from his highly-publicized protege..."I think the thing we have to remember about Terrell is that he is a very young man — he came out of college a year early, with a lot of publicity, and he missed our entire training camp," Jauron points out. "He has a lot of skills — he has great quickness and he can locate a thrown ball and make a play. You're always looking for people who can make a play, and he can do that. He's got the speed, he's got the closing ability. What you get out of training camp, he missed last year and, once you start the season, you don't have time to go back and teach that. I look for him to have an outstanding year for us because he will understand the details of the coverages better. He's very competitive — he's not a very big corner but he is extremely competitive — and I look for that to emerge this year. In terms of interceptions, I think he will have a very good year. He's got the ability, I think he's got the attitude and the ambition, and with those things I think he'll get it done."...Head Coach Mike Holmgren describes the ex-Florida State Seminole as "an offensive defensive player — he makes things happen."...1992: Signed on Sept. 11 after missing all of training camp and the season opener vs. Minnesota...Granted a two-week roster exemption, he subsequently sat out the Tampa Bay contest (Sept. 13)...Appeared as a reserve defensive back and punt return man in the next two games before starting the last 12 contests at left cornerback...Closed out year as team leader in passes defended with 16, making 3 interceptions in the process to tie for team runner-up honors...Finished 11th on defensive unit with 32 total tackles (30 solo)...Also contributed on special teams, finishing fifth in the National Football Conference in punt returns with a 10.0-yard average for 21 runbacks...Made major impact in his NFL debut vs. Cincinnati (Sept. 20), returning a punt 58 yards for a touchdown to spark a 24-23, come-from-behind win...Also had a 48-yard return vs. Lions at Pontiac, Mich. (Nov. 1)...Made first interception of pro career vs. Detroit (Dec. 6), being credited with 4 passes defended overall...Had outstanding game vs. L.A. Rams on Dec. 20, intercepting 2 passes and returning one 33 yards for a touchdown, zig-zagging across the entire width of the field with a dazzling display of open-field running en route to the end zone...First-round draft choice (5th overall) of Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Another in the line of superstar cornerbacks Florida State has produced, following Deion Sanders and current teammate LeRoy Butler, he set Seminole all-time records for interceptions (21) and interception return yards (501), the latter an NCAA record as well...He also equalled FSU records with 4 touchdowns on interception returns and 3 punt returns for scores...Returned 82 career punts for 1,000 yards (12.2 avg.) and 3 TDs...Two-year starter and three-year letterman (1989-91) for Seminoles...Unanimous first-team All-America selection and winner of the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the nation's top defensive back, as a senior after leading the nation in interceptions with 12 (for 238 yards in returns and 2 TDs)...Also scored 2 touchdowns on interception returns among his 6 thefts as a first-year starter in 1990, earning second-team All-America recognition from AP, Sporting News and Football News...Played two years of varsity baseball and was a sprinter on outdoor track team for one year...Theatre major, with minor in political science.

PERSONAL: Given name Douglas Terrell Buckley...Nickname: "T Buck"...Born in Pascagoula, Miss....Single...Rated top defensive back in the nation as a senior at Pascagoula (Miss.) Braves at Class A level in off-season...Distant cousin of former Chicago Bear superstar Walter Payton...Has worked on behalf of the national "Feed the Children" campaign and has his own charitable endeavor, known as "T Buck's Corner"...Hobbies: baseball, shooting basketball...Residence: Longwood, Fla.

Safety • Florida State • 4th Year

PRO: A consummate professional, LeRoy Butler is poised to take his place among pro football's premier strong safeties following a sterling debut season at the position in 1992...Rapidly developing as a team leader, he is becoming a moral force as well as a highly physical factor in the Packer defense...Dick Jauron, Butler's position coach, sees an outstanding 1993 season — and brilliant future — for the fourth-year defender from Florida State, asserting, "LeRoy is just going to get better and better. He really had a good year last year in his first season at strong safety (Butler played right cornerback his first two seasons). I think he's a tremendous football player. I think the thing I like most about LeRoy is how much he enjoys playing the game — his enthusiasm on and off the field. He's a tough guy — a willing hitter. He also has great speed and he's very instinctive. I really look for him to step up as a team leader — not that he hasn't been in the past. But, as he gets more comfortable playing the position, he will re-emerge as a team leader. He's also an easy man to coach — he's a big help to a coach, on and off the field — the way he handles his life and the way he works at it."...1992: Replacing departed Mark Murphy, he started 15 games, missing the Houston contest (Dec. 13) because of a one-game suspension imposed by NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue for a hit on quarterback Andre Ware of Rams on Sept. 29, came at Green Bay's 18-yard line, sparing the Packers potential embarrassment, and his third, against Indianapolis (Nov. 24), snuffed a budding Colts threat at the Indy 46...Also forced Thomas Sanders fumble deep in Green Bay territory vs. Philadelphia, which was recovered by Packers at their 9-yard line...Had best statistical day of the season against Cowboys (Oct. 6), posting 7 total tackles (4 solo)...1990: Made an immediate impact in his rookie season, playing in all 16 games as a reserve sharing team interception honors with Murphy and Jerry Holmes, each posting 3 thefts...Made 2 of his 3 interceptions in one game — vs. Minnesota at Milwaukee (Oct. 28), forging his first intercept as a professional on the fourth play of the final quarter in 24-10 victory...Also intercepted Rodney Peete pass in Packers' end zone vs. Detroit (Dec. 22)...Credited with breaking up 11 passes over the season and forcing 1 fumble...Involved in 19 tackles overall, 18 of them unassisted...Augmented these efforts with substantial contributions on special teams, emerging as the Packers' fourth-ranked kamikaze under the team's point system then in effect...Registered 10 tackles on coverage units, 8 of them solo...Started his very first pro game — the Packers' preseason opener vs. Cleveland (Aug. 11) — in place of injured Dave Brown at right cornerback and led defense with 5 solo tackles...Second-round draft choice (48th overall) of Green Bay in 1990.

63 James Campen

Center • Tulane • 7th Year

Ht: 6-2½ • Wt: 280 • Born: 6/11/64 • Acq: PB-89

PRO: For one who had to talk his way into training camp as a rookie, James Campen has come a great distance professionally...Green Bay's starting center for the past three seasons, the ebullient, freewheeling Californian has become the linchpin of the Packers' offensive line...Over the three-year span, he has started 42 games — more than any other holdover member of the unit — including all 16 in 1990, his first year as successor to Blair Bush...Tom Lovat, the Packers' offensive line coach, terms the 29-year-old Tulane alumnus "a solid NFL center...He knows the offense and he can make the calls the center needs to make. He also gives us good leadership. He has a good personality to have on a football club, and I think he's improving technically each year. He's bright and he's your classic overachiever."...A Plan B addition from the New Orleans Saints in 1989, he established himself as the starting center in 1990 when the veteran Bush requested a reduced role...Originally had to literally talk his way into the Saints' training camp when he graduated from Tulane in 1986 — and didn't even make the roster as a rookie...But he caught on the next year, backing up Steve Korte and Joel Hilgenberg at center...1992: Started 13 games...Suffered strained knee ligaments in Week 4 vs. Pittsburgh (Sept. 27), necessitating his placement on IR three days later...Sidelined for three games (at Atlanta Oct. 4, at Cleveland Oct. 18 and vs. Chicago Oct. 25) plus the Packers' bye week, he then returned to start the last nine contests...Also displayed his tackling skills, collecting 2 miscellaneous stops following interceptions...1991: Started and played in 13 games...Was on team's inactive list vs. Buffalo (Nov. 10) and did not play against Vikings (Nov. 17) or Colts (Nov. 24) while recovering from a calf injury suffered at N.Y. 55 Brett Collins

Linebacker • Washington • 2nd Year

Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 234 • Born: 10/8/68 • Acq: FA-92

PRO: Blessed with equal parts of talent and dedication, he is expected to be a solid challenger for a more substantial role after serving his apprenticeship as a backup — at a then new position — in his rookie season...The compactly constructed Wyoming native's baptismal campaign was complicated by being called upon to learn a new position...“Last year, we moved him from outside to inside linebacker when we had injuries,” Linebackers Coach Bob Valesente notes. “He provided backup at the position — he didn’t play very much but he was our security blanket.”...Collins’ prospects for increased involvement are enhanced, Valesente adds, by a highly valued and not too common commodity, “exceptionally good speed...I see him gaining experience, and because of his experience, his speed and his quickness, being a serious contender. I also expect him to be a factor on the special teams because of his speed and quickness.”...1992: Moving between the active roster and the practice squad over the course of the season, he played in 11 games overall, solely as a reserve...Made 3 tackles (1 solo) on defense and 5 (3 solo) as a member of the special teams...Posted 4 special teams tackles (3 solo) vs. the Los Angeles Rams on Dec. 20, tying a team single-game high for the season...A 12th-round draft choice (314th overall) of Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and four-year letterman (1988-91) for University of Washington...Redshirted in 1987...Totaled 118 tackles (65 solo) in collegiate career, plus 8 sacks, 18 tackles for loss, 3 fumble recoveries, 2 forced fumbles and 2 passes defended...Regarded as Washington’s premier linebacker against the run, he helped the Huskies win the national championship in 1991, serving as co-captain...Troubled early in the season by an ankle injury, he closed out the year with 17 tackles, 1 sack, 1 forced fumble and 1 fumble recovery...All-Pac 10 Conference second-team selection as a junior, when he recorded career highs for tackles (52) and quarterback sacks (5)...Earned B.A. degree in political science.

PERSONAL: Given name Brett William Collins...Single...Born in Sheridan, Wyo. ...All-America honorable mention by The Sporting News, USA Today and Bally during two-year career as a running back and free safety at Glencoe High in Portland, Ore. ...All-state and all-metro first-team selection...Also chosen “Metro Offensive Player of the Year” as a senior...Rushed for 780 yards in his final five games en route to the state championship...Played in Oregon Shrine All-Star game...Also lettered three times in both basketball and track...Hobbies include golf, music and playing basketball...Residence: Portland, Ore.

99 Don Davey

Defensive End • Wisconsin • 3rd Year

Ht: 6-4 • Wt: 270 • Born: 4/8/68 • Acq: FA-92

PRO: Being both a "local boy" and a superior role model, Don Davey has a loyal and devoted fan club — including his position coach... "Don is an extremely bright, tough and hard-working person," Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache says of the Manitowoc, Wis., native who saw his boyhood dream come true in 1991 when he was drafted by the Packers in the third round. "I think everybody on the team, the coaching staff and in the organization pulls for him. You watch him work and you can't help but pull for him, because he plays the game the way it was meant to be played — with intensity and devotion."... Davey, who grew up as a Packer loyalist in Manitowoc (35 miles southeast of Green Bay), brings impressive physical credentials to his role — good upfield quickness, a 30-inch vertical jump and outstanding strength, exemplified by a 635-pound squat... 1992: Experienced the emotional roller coaster professional football can sometimes become for a player... Placed on waivers following the second regular-season contest (Sept. 16), he was out of the game for six weeks before being re-signed to a Packer contract Nov. 12, replacing the injured Sebastian Barrie... Subsequently played in the final seven games of the season and in nine contests overall... Utilized primarily in "nickel" defense, he posted 5 tackles (4 solos)... Also forced 2 fumbles and recovered 1... Both of the former were of the big-play variety... The first, in his initial game back, saw Davey jar the football from Herschel Walker's hands in the final minute to set up Chris Jacke's game-winning field goal in a 27-24, come-from-behind victory over Philadelphia at Milwaukee (Nov. 15)... Three weeks later, he forced a Barry Sanders fumble early in the fourth quarter vs. Detroit (Dec. 6) that teammate Matt Brock scooped up and rumbled 34 yards with to set up a field goal in a 38-10 Packer victory... 1991: Played in all 16 games as a reserve... Credited with 1 solo tackle and 1 assist as a special teams performer... Batted down 1 pass on defense, at Tampa Bay (10/27)... Made early impression on Packer defensive coaches, registering 3 solo tackles and a quarterback sack in preseason opener against New England Patriots... The first of two third-round draft choices (67th overall) by Green Bay in 1991.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter at the University of Wisconsin (1987-90) following redshirt season in 1986... Climaxed his collegiate career by earning consensus All-Big Ten Conference honors as a senior after leading the league in sacks with 7... Also named as Badgers' MVP in 1990, a season in which he served as team captain... A four-time Academic All-American at the University of Wisconsin — the first in NCAA history — he set a school career record with 49 tackles behind the line of scrimmage... Involved in 267 tackles over his four varsity seasons, including 145 solo stops and 122 assists... Holds both B.S. and M.S. degrees in mechanical engineering, graduating with a 3.46 grade point average.

PERSONAL: Given name Donald Vincent Davey... Nicknames: "Nitro" and "Dr. Quad"... Born in Scottsville, N.Y. ... A new bridegroom, he was married to the former Kristen Kohls June 5, 1993... United Press International Player of the Year and Northeast Wisconsin Player of the Year as a senior at Lincoln (Manitowoc, Wis.) High School... Led team to the WIAA Division I state championship his last two seasons... Lettering three times, he was an all-district, all-conference and all-state selection as a nose guard and center... Named to Bally's All-America prep football team... Also performed as a center on the basketball team, earning two letters, and lettered twice in track in the high jump, triple jump and mile relay... Graduated at the top of his class (400 students) with perfect 4.0 grade point average... Saw one of his former teachers, Gary Drohman of Manitowoc Lincoln, honored as "Teacher of the Month" for September, 1992, under the National Football League Teacher of the Month program... Active in the local community, he has served as spokesman for the Green Bay Drug Alliance in addition to working with Athletes in Action, Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, Big Brothers/Big Sisters and the Domestic Violence

11 Ty Detmer

Quarterback • Brigham Young • 2nd Year

Ht: 6-0 • Wt: 190 • Born: 10/30/67 • Acq: D9a-92

PRO: A Heisman Trophy winner and record-breaking quarterback as a collegian, Ty Detmer found himself in the role of observer and part-time sideline "communicator" as a rookie in 1992, alternating with Don Majkowski in signaling plays to starting quarterback Brett Favre for most of the season as the Packers' designated "Third Quarterback" on game day...Earlier, in preseason appearances, he demonstrated an eye-catching ability to move the football team, reminiscent of his career at Brigham Young..."All we know about Ty is that when he has played — whether it's been in college, or exhibition games or scrimmages — he's performed well," Quarterbacks Coach Steve Mariucci says in assessing the young Texas field general and his professional potential. "Every time he has had an opportunity, he has performed well — he's responded. So it's a matter of getting him some game experience, so we should do that in the preseason."...Impressed with Detmer's qualifications as a field general, Mariucci adds, "He's very smart — he's very instinctive, he's very confident. He knows how to play the position. If you were recruiting somebody for college, for example, he's physically not the kind of athlete you'd be looking for. (But) he just finds a way to get it done. He's worked hard in the off-season to build muscle for durability. He's got enough arm for this offense — not as good an arm as the others — but this offense allows a guy like him to participate."...1992: Inactive Third Quarterback in first three games of season, as well as in last 11 contests...Was active and backed up Favre vs. Pittsburgh (Sept. 27) and at Atlanta (Oct. 4) while Majkowski was sidelined by an ankle injury...Made two effective appearances during preseason...Orchestrated a 14-play, 80-yard scoring drive for Packers' final touchdown in a 21-13 victory over the Kansas City Chiefs in club's non-league opener in Green Bay's Lambeau Field Aug. 8, helping present new Head Coach Mike Holmgren with his first NFL win...Two weeks later, with the score tied at 13 in the fourth quarter against the Los Angeles Rams at Anaheim, Calif., he shrugged off an interception on an earlier series to come back and direct a 54-yard drive which put the Packers in position to win with a final play field goal; Chris Jacke's 44-yard effort, however, was wide left and the Rams subsequently prevailed in overtime...First of two ninth-round draft choices (230th overall) by Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: One of the most celebrated players in college football history, he set 59 NCAA records during his BYU career, including most touchdown passes (121), most yards passing (15,031), most pass completions (958), most pass attempts (1,530), most offensive plays (1,785), most yards of total offense

58 Mark D'Onofrio

Linebacker • Penn State • 2nd Year

Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 235 • Born: 3/17/69 • Acq: D2-92

PRO: With prospects for his full recovery from extensive hamstring surgery now brighter, though ultimately undetermined, fiery Mark D'Onofrio well could become a significant factor in the Packer defense during the 1993 season...He was well on his way to that plateau when struck down by injury in the second week of his rookie, 1992 season...Felled by the hamstring problem in the fourth quarter of the Packers' 31-3 loss at Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), he subsequently was placed on injured reserve two days later, where he spent the balance of the season...When the injury did not respond to conservative treatment and rehabilitation, the Green Bay medical staff sought the counsel of noted specialist Dr. Russell Warren, team physician for the N.Y. Giants...Warren then surgically repaired the severely torn portion of D'Onofrio's left hamstring on Feb. 24, 1993, at The Hospital For Special Surgeries in New York City...In retrospect, the injury was described by recently retired Packer Trainer Domenic Gentile as "the worst hamstring injury I've seen in my 32 years as a trainer..."...With a complete recovery now more likely, Linebackers Coach Bob Valesente has high expectations of the 24-year-old New Jersey native..."Mark got off to a great start as a rookie last year in our first two games," Valesente notes. "He would have gained valuable experience if he hadn't been injured. Throughout training camp and the preseason, he played a very physical game. For a young guy, it was surprising that he had some of those characteristics. Whenever he returns, I look for him to pick up where he left off. He has an excellent work ethic and he has the kind of toughness you look for in an inside linebacker. He likes to play to the ball — he has a good nose for the ball.”...1992: Registered 7 total tackles (2 solo) and was credited with 1 pass defended in his NFL regular-season debut, vs. Minnesota on Sept. 6...Also posted 2 solo tackles in Week 2 at Buccaneers before suffering hamstring injury...Second-round draft choice (34th overall and fourth linebacker) of Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-year letterman (1988-91) at Penn State...Redshirted in 1987...Recorded 217 total tackles (142 solo) in collegiate career, including 15 sacks and 18 for loss, plus 2 interceptions, 5 fumble recoveries, 5 forced fumbles and 13 passes defended...A preseason All-America selection in 1991, he saw his final season cut short prior to the fourth game due to a dislocated right shoulder suffered in practice...Continued to play until seventh game, finally undergoing surgery that forced the Nittany Lion co-captain to the sidelines...Still managed to finish third on the team with 54 tackles, 2 sacks and 5 tackles for loss...Earned honorable mention All-America recognition from Football News as a junior, when he led Penn State in total tackles with 71...Holds B.S. degree in labor and industrial relations.

4 Brett Favre

Quarterback • Southern Mississippi • 3rd Year
Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 218 • Born: 10/10/69 • Acq: T-92

PRO: His meteoric rise — from designated backup to Pro Bowler in just three months’ time — keyed the Packers’ 9-7 resurgence in 1992 and established the genial Mississippian as a “franchise” quarterback...So impressive was he in escorting Green Bay to its second-best record in 20 years that Head Coach Mike Holmgren was prompted to observe, “If Brett can stay healthy, he will be the cornerstone of our football team for many years to come.”...Acquired from Atlanta for a first-round draft choice during a 1992 off-season trade, he had authored only 5 passes for the Falcons in minimal action during his rookie, 1991 season (without a completion), giving little indication in limited opportunity of the brilliance to come...Beginning the 1992 season as the understudy to incumbent Don Majkowski, he was hastily summoned from the bench to replace an injured Majkowski in the first quarter of Game 3 vs. Cincinnati and proceeded to take a stranglehold on the QB position, staking an immediate claim by leading the Packers to an electrifying, come-from-behind, 24-23 victory over the Bengals, forged by way of a 35-yard scoring pass to wideout Kitrick Taylor with only 13 seconds remaining in the game...Performing in storybook fashion, he went on to compile an 8-5 record as a starter and establish two new Packer passing records in the process — single-season marks for passing percentage (64.12%) and most consecutive 200-yard passing games (11)...Stands to become the Packers' all-time career leader in passing efficiency in 1993 simply by attempting 29 passes to reach the 500 necessary for qualification; even if all 29 were to be incomplete, his career completion percentage still would place him No. 1 in team history (ahead of Bart Starr's 57.42%, which presently leads)...Although impressed with Favre's accomplishments in his baptismal season as a starter, Green Bay Quarterbacks Coach Steve Mariucci takes a conservative approach in assessing the young field general's artistic future..."Having one good season may or may not be an indication of whether a quarterback is for real or not," he points out. "Putting several back-to-back seasons together is a better indicator. And, hopefully, Brett can improve on last year. There certainly are a lot of areas he can work on, and his approach to the off-season has been good. He's in much better physical shape this year than he has been in. Hopefully, he's taken it to the next level. He has a real strong arm and he's a physically tough kid — he's naturally strong. Those are two of the biggest assets he has. The things he has that are just as important as the physical — he's a mentally tough kid...he's very courageous, he doesn't fear any situation or a hostile environment. They don't bother him. He's confident and very focused — he shows poise and leadership — and that rubs off. He's a winner — he plays hurt, he practices hurt. And he's coachable — he listens. Maybe the most important thing — he's not satisfied. Just because he's been to the Pro Bowl, that's not enough. 76 Harry Galbreath

Guard • Tennessee • 6th Year

Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 275 • Born: 1/1/65 • Acq: UFA-93

PRO: A bulwark of the Miami Dolphins' highly regarded offensive line the past five seasons, Harry Galbreath adds quality and dynamism to the Packers' front wall... "Harry is a very quick, explosive football player," Offensive line Coach Tom Lovat says of the native Tennessean, one of the premier unrestricted free agents to become available when free agency was implemented in the National Football League last February. "He runs well and gets out on the sweeps and screens. And he's young — he's brought some youth to the offensive line, which we need."...At 28, Galbreath is six months younger than the youngest starter in the 1992 Packer offensive line, center James Campen...Galbreath also has been impressively durable and consistent...Has started 52 consecutive games for Miami (all at right guard)...Also has started four career playoff games, including the Dolphins' 31-0 divisional playoff victory over San Diego and their AFC title game loss to Buffalo this past January...Equally impressive is another salient statistic in his resume — the Dolphins did not allow a sack during Galbreath's first 19 starts as a professional — the last 12 games of the 1988 season and the first 7 in 1989, a skein that enabled Miami to set an all-time NFL record...Along the way, he was an integral part of a Dolphin offensive line which restricted opponents to an NFL-low 10 sacks in '89...Made his first pro start, poetically enough, against the Packers on Sept. 18 of his rookie, 1988 season, a day on which he stepped in for an injured Roy Foster...Has missed starting only two games over the last four seasons, both of them late in the 1989 season when he was hobbled by a sprained ankle...Signed with Green Bay as an unrestricted free agent on March 23, 1993...1992: Started all 16 regular-season games, running his starting streak to 52 consecutive games, in addition to both playoff tilts...Hampered by thigh injury early in training camp...1991: Started all 16 games at right guard...Missed most of training camp while unsigned, he inked a deal on Aug. 26 and was granted a two-week roster exemption...Activated five days later, he started at Buffalo (Sept. 1) in regular-season opener...Missed some playing time at New England (Oct. 6) due to ankle injury which also hampered him in next two games...1990: Started all 16 regular-season games plus both playoff contests...Key member of offensive line which allowed an NFL-low 16 sacks...1989: Started 14 contests at right guard...Missed games at Dallas (Nov. 19) and vs. Pittsburgh (Nov. 26) because of ankle sprain...Helped Dolphin offensive line hold enemy defenses to an NFL-low 10 sacks...1988: Enjoyed outstanding rookie season, playing in all 16 games, with 13 starts...Started last 12 games of season at right guard, following one previous start at left guard...Dolphin quarterbacks were sacked only once during his 13 starts, the lone sack coming in his first start...Made first NFL appearance in season opener at Chicago (Sept. 4), he saw relief action in first two games of year...Made first NFL start against Green Bay (Sept. 18) at left guard in place of the injured Foster...Returned to bench for next contest at Indianapolis as Miami allowed season-high 4 sacks...Replaced injured starter Tom Toth in line-up the following week vs. Minnesota (Oct. 2) and remained the team's starter for the final 12 games of the season...Eighth-round choice (212th overall) of Miami in 1988.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-year letterman (1984-87) at left guard for Tennessee...Redshirted in 1983...Two-time All-Southeastern Conference selection (first team in '87, second team in '86)...All-America pick in 1987 — first team by The Sporting News, second team by UPI, Football News and NEA...Played in every game during his four seasons...Was main reason Vols' running game averaged 221.0 yards per game in 1987...Called "the best run-blocker" he had ever coached by then-Vols coach Johnny Majors...Was Volunteers' strongest athlete, with a bench press of 420 pounds and a squat of 615 pounds...Led explosive blocking effort by offensive line as Tennessee

65 Ron Hallstrom

Offensive Guard • Iowa • 12th Year

Ht: 6-6 • Wt: 315 • Born: 6/11/59 • Acq: D1-82

PRO: "Dependable" and "versatile" may be the best two adjectives to describe Ron Hallstrom and his 11-year career with the Green Bay Packers...Has played in every non-strike game since Nov. 21, 1982, when he made his professional "debut" vs. Minnesota — 165 games in all (163 regular season, two in the playoffs), which includes 124 starts...The Packers' first-round draft choice out of Iowa in 1982, Hallstrom has not been absent from the lineup since spending the first two games of his inaugural season on the taxi squad, which was followed by a players' strike...His streak of 163 consecutive regular-season appearances would rank as the second-longest string in team history, though it is not recognized officially since Hallstrom missed the three "replacement" contests during the 1987 strike...Though, for the most part, he has been the resident starter at right guard since 1984, over his decade-plus in Green Bay the hulking Iowan has seen time at every position on the offensive line — perhaps the greatest tribute to his all-around abilities..."Ron Hallstrom is a guy who can play a lot of positions," notes Head Coach Mike Holmgren. "Not many teams are fortunate enough to have all of their guys healthy, so Ron can fill in at a lot of places, and start — he's started for a long time..." Offensive Line Coach Tom Lovat concurs, adding, "I think you could stick Ron just about anywhere across the board and not feel bad about the job he'd do. He's got good experience..." With the off-season departure of DE Robert Brown, he is the Packers' senior member in terms of league experience with the club...Held the honor of being Green Bay's offensive captain from 1986-89...1992: Started all 16 games at his familiar right guard spot for the fourth time in the past five seasons...Overcame preseason speculation that he would be relegated to backup status to hold on to his starting position...1991: Started all 16 games at right guard...Recovered a Clarence Weathers fumble vs. Buffalo (Nov. 10) to keep alive Green Bay drive which led to its final touchdown in 34-24 loss to Bills...1990: Saw his string of 75 consecutive "union" starts at right guard end when a lengthy contractual holdout gave fellow veteran Keith Uecker ample opportunity to win a starting role at Hallstrom's usual position...Did play in all 16 games, but almost solely backed up Uecker for the first nine...Got his first start of year on Nov. 18 at Phoenix, though it was at the somewhat unfamiliar position of left tackle as regular starter Ken Ruettggers was on injured reserve after arthroscopic knee surgery and Ruettggers' backup, Alan Veingrad, had suffered a calf injury during a mid-week practice session...Though Veingrad returned to the lineup the following Sunday, Hallstrom did make his way back into the starting five up front, reclaiming his right guard position from Uecker for the final three games of the '90 campaign...1989: Had what may have been the finest season of his professional career, starting all 16 games...Completed his cycle of all offensive line positions when pressed into emergency service at center vs. the Vikings in Milwaukee on Nov. 26 as then-starter Blair Bush and Bush's backup, James Campen, were on the sideline with foot and ankle injuries, respectively...1988: Started all 16 games at right guard...1987: Allowed only one-half sack over 12-game "union" schedule, the best performance that season by a Green Bay offensive lineman as he started all non-strike contests...Also led team in cuts and knockdowns (the number of times a lineman gets an opposing player off of his feet)...1986: Started all 16 games for first time in his career...1985: Lingered ankle injury forced him to miss starting assignment in season opener at New England, though he did get in as a backup...Returned to lineup the following week vs. Giants, where he remained for 75 straight games until run was ended with 1990 opener...1984: Moved ahead of Syd Kitson and into the starting lineup at right guard in fourth game of season, Sept. 30 at Dallas, at which time he, for all intents and purposes, became Packers' incumbent at the position...Became such an effective player that then-Head Coach Forrest Gregg was moved to comment, "As far as our right guard position is concerned, that issue is settled."...Heading into the '84 season, had been listed on training camp depth chart as a backup tackle even though he had begun his pro career at guard...1983: Saw duty in all 16 games as a backup to Karl Swanke at left tackle...1982: After spending first two games of his rookie year on the taxi squad, played in final seven contests of strike-shortened season, also seeing action in the Packers' two playoff contests, vs. St. Louis and Dallas...Drafted in the first round (22nd overall) by Green Bay in 1982.

COLLEGE: Spent three seasons (1979-81) at University of Iowa after transferring in from Iowa Central Junior College, where he played in 1978...Played defensive tackle at Iowa Central, earning second-team All-America honors...Also played DT in '79 for Hawkeyes...Sat out redshirt season in 1980 as he made switch to offensive tackle...Made smooth transition to other side of ball, rising to No. 1 guard spot entering 1981 season...Climaxed college career by winning all-Big Ten honors of AP and UPI as a senior — in his first year as an offensive lineman...Played in all 11 games, in addition to starting in the Rose Bowl, for Iowa in '81...Invited to play in East-West Shrine and Japan Bowl all-star games, but was unable to due to hand injury suffered in closing minutes of Rose Bowl...Majored in general studies.

80 Jackie Harris

Tight End • Northeast Louisiana • 4th Year

Ht: 6-3½ • Wt: 243 • Born: 1/4/68 • Acq: D4-90

PRO: Already regarded by many as one of the top tight ends in the National Football League, this up-and-coming star figures to take his game to an even higher level in 1993...An accomplished pass-catcher with the ability to go deep, he also is an impressive runner "after the catch"...Has made dramatic strides in his run blocking over his first three league seasons, through his own hard work and often with the aid of Ed West, long one of the game's premier blocking tight ends..."Last year, in the Spring of 1992 during one of our mini-camps, Jackie came back for two days and didn't catch one football," tells Green Bay Tight Ends Coach Andy Reid. "We spent about 2 hours and 15 minutes each day doing nothing but run blocking..."Firmly believing in his abilities, this past Feb. 25 he was designated by Green Bay as one of its two "transition" players under the NFL's new free agency system, even though his contract was not scheduled to expire until after the 1993 season..."We think Jackie Harris will be the best tight end in the National Football Conference should he realize his potential," says Ron Wolf, the Packers' general manager...Though he ranks among the league's elite tight ends, Reid believes that Harris is dissimilar from all the others, saying, "I think he does it a little different than all those guys. He's got his own style and he does it well. He has an opportunity to be a tremendous football player. He needs to continue to work his whole game and on his understanding of the offense. He's willing to combine both things — the run game and the passing game — where some guys just want to catch passes. He's really done a fine job run blocking..."Should make his 100th career reception early this season (he comes into the year needing only 9 catches to reach that mark), he also is poised to take his place among the team's receiving elite later in '93 by cracking the Packers' All-Time Top 20 Receivers — #20 Gary Knefelc (134) is 43 catches away...1992: Fell one catch short of Packers' single-season record for receptions by a tight end, 56 by Paul Coffman in 1979...In the process, he became only the second TE in Green Bay's 74-season history to catch 50-plus passes in a season (Coffman also had 55 in 1981 and 54 in 1983)...Assumed role as team's full-time starting tight end at Cleveland on Oct. 18, going on to start the last 11 games after playing in the first five as a backup to West...His 55 receptions for 595 yards (10.8 avg.) and 2 TDs was second on club behind only Sterling Sharpe's record-breaking 108 catches...He and Sharpe joined together for 2,056 receiving yards, the most by two players on one team in the NFL in 1992...Individually, his 55 catches ranked him second in the league among tight ends, Jay Novacek of Dallas pacing the group with 68...Also had the fourth-highest number of receiving yards by an NFL TE in '92 (595)...Beginning to receive league-wide recognition for his plaudits, he was named a first-team All-Pro by Gannett...Once he became the Packers' designated starter, he really took off, catching 43 passes in the final 11 games...Tied team's single-game

Rams (Sept. 29) and at Atlanta (Dec. 1)...All three of his touchdowns came on one-yard receptions — vs. Buffalo Nov. 10 (the first score of his pro career), vs. Minnesota Nov. 17 and at Chicago Dec. 8...Made key play on special teams vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 15), downing a punt at Bucs' two-yard line to set up a Green Bay safety which provided the eventual winning margin in a 15-13 victory...1990: Played in all 16 games as a rookie, starting three when Packers utilized a game-opening, two-tight end alignment...Made 12 receptions for 157 yards (13.1 avg.)...Caught a season-high 3 passes for 43 yards vs. Seattle (Dec. 9)...Led Green Bay special teams in tackles with 22, including 16 solo stops...Drafted in the fourth round (102nd overall and 4th tight end) by Packers in 1990.

13 Chris Jacke

Kicker • Texas-El Paso • 5th Year

Ht: 6-0 • Wt: 200 • Born: 3/12/66 • Acq: D6-89

PRO: Entering only his fifth league season, already is one of the more prolific kickers in Packers' history...Confidence, accuracy and an iron will are his trademarks...Likely to take his rightful place in 1993 among the most accurate kickers in NFL history, he comes into the year needing 15 successful field goals to reach the minimum 100 necessary to qualify for the league's all-time rankings...Entering the '93 season, his current success rate of 76.58% (85/111) would place him fourth all-time in career accuracy, behind only Pete Stoyanovich (80.80%), Nick Lowery (80.10%) and Morten Andersen (78.10%), and immediately ahead of Gary Anderson (76.49%) and Donald Igwebuike (75.52%)...Primary reasons for Jacke's success undoubtedly are his devotion to kicking and his mental makeup, according to Green Bay Special Teams Coach Nolan Cromwell... "He really is a true professional at his skill," says Cromwell. "He starts working out two weeks after the season and then works right up until training camp. He is so dedicated to his profession. He also is very self-contained emotionally. He doesn't express many emotions. He is very poised in his approach. It doesn't matter what is happening around him, he will remain focused on his job."...His accuracy and confidence level are the strengths of Jacke's game, according to Cromwell...Second on Packers' all-time field goal list with 85, he trails only Chester Marcol (120)...Has missed only one PAT in his four-year career (131/132), enters year with a string of 86 consecutive PATs made, the second-longest streak in team history behind only Paul Hornung's 99 (1960-62, 1964)...Comes into '93 residing in sixth place on Green Bay's all-time scoring list with 386 career points to his credit...Needs 69 points to reach #5 Fred Cone at 455 points...Early last season became only 11th player in team's 74-year history to reach 300-point plateau...Has led Packers in scoring for four straight seasons, bettered in club annals only by Cone's five consecutive seasons from 1953-57...Has not had a field goal or PAT attempt blocked over his first four league seasons...Holder of numerous club records, among them: most field goals in a game (5 at L.A. Raiders in 1990); most consecutive games scoring field goals (12 from 1991-92, shared with Jan Stenerud); most consecutive field goals (15 from 1989-90), most field goals of 50-plus yards in a career (6); most field goals of 50-plus yards in a season (2 in both 1990 and 1992, shared with three others); and highest point after touchdown percentage in a career (99.24%)...Also shares with Stenerud the Green Bay record for longest field goal — 53 yards — which he has done on three occasions (vs. the Rams in 1990, at the Jets in 1991 and at Detroit in 1992)...Continues to hold No. 2 spot in club history for career field goal percentage (76.58%), bettered only by Hall of Famer Stenerud's 80.82%...Has attempted third-highest number of field goals in Packer history (111), exceeded by only the 195 of Chester Marcol and the 128 of Hornung...Has fifth-most career PAT tries (132) in club annals...Was a perfect 30/30 in career from inside of 30 yards until missing from 25 yards last year vs. Pittsburgh in Week 4, he continues to be highly successful from that range (33/35 — 94.29%)...Saw his touchback percentage take a dip in 1992 when he was asked to kick off short and to a specific spot on the field...Still has a respectable career TB percentage (17.5%), 44 of his 251 kickoffs having been kicked out of or downed in the end zone..."I asked him to do something totally different than he had been used to," Cromwell says of Jacke's working orders in '92. "I asked him to kick off to either the right corner or to the left corner. I asked him to place the ball in certain situations. With his accuracy and his control, his kickoffs were a major factor in the success of our kickoff coverage unit." (2nd in NFL)...Has 9 game-winning kicks — successes which provided the eventual winning points — to his credit in his first four league seasons (5 FGs, 4 PATs), including 6 as a rookie...Relatively injury-free, has yet to miss a game in the NFL (64 in all)...1992: Successful on 22/29 field goal attempts (75.9%) and on all 30 extra point efforts...Ranked sixth among NFC kickers with 96 points, which also gave him team scoring lead for fourth consecutive year...Had a string of 12 straight games with at least one FG snapped at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8), leaving him in a tie with Stenerud for club record...Made three field goals (39, 36, 20 yards) in 16-14 win at Houston (Dec. 13)...Hit FGs of 34, 33, 29 and 48 yards, missing a 52-yarder, despite swirling winds the entire day, in 19-14 victory over Tampa Bay (Nov. 29)...His tremendous success vs. Bucs was third time in his career that he had kicked 4-plus field goals in one game (others: 5 at Raiders in '90 and 4 at Chicago in '89)...Made 2 field goals in final two minutes in 27-24 triumph over Philadelphia, including game-winning 41-yarder as time expired...His lone other decisive kick in '92 had come on Sept. 20 vs. the Bengals, when his PAT in the final minute gave Green Bay a 24-23 victory...Padded two of his existing team records at Detroit on Nov. 1 with a 53-yard field goal...Not only did it equal the club distance mark (done twice previously by himself and once by Stenerud), it also was his sixth career FG of 50-plus yards (a record he alone holds)...Paired with the 51-yarder he had made one week earlier vs. Chicago, his two field goals of 50 or more yards in one season matched the Packers' standard co-held by himself, Marcol, Stenerud and Al Del Greco...Had become only 11th player in team's 74-year history to reach 300-point level when he made a 33-yarder at Tampa Bay (Sept. 13)...Experienced some difficulties to begin the season, attributable at least in part to a change of placement holders following Don Majkowski's ankle injury early in the Cincinnati game..."We started out slow last year, having a few problems with holding after Don got hurt," Cromwell recalls, "but he fought through that and got better as the year went on. That's the kind of kicker he is..."...Had a career-low touchback percentage of 8.8% (6/68), highly reflective of the fact that the majority of his kickoffs were directional as opposed to geared for distance...1991: Made 18 of 24 field goal tries over the season (75.0%), including a perfect 9/9 inside the 30-yard line...Also made all 31 of his extra point attempts...Led team in scoring with 85 points, tying Minnesota's Fuad Reveziz for 10th place among NFC kickers...Hit 22-yard, game-winning FG with 22 seconds remaining in 15-13 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 15)...Tied club distance record with 53-yard field goal at N.Y. Jets on Nov. 3...Also connected on 41- and 34-yard efforts in same contest, missing a 42-yarder in overtime, and tackled Jets kick return man Terance Mathis in second quarter following a 49-yard runback...Placed 23 of 63 kickoffs into or out of end zone, 15 resulting in touchbacks for a career-high TB percentage of 23.8...1990: Converted 23/30 field goal attempts (76.7%), the total including an unblemished 9/9 from inside the 30, and 28/29 of his PAT tries...Made inroads in Packers' record book en route, establishing a new single-game record by kicking five field goals in a 29-16 victory over the Raiders at Los Angeles (Nov. 11) — from 39, 51, 32, 23 and 20 yards...Also set a new club mark with 15 consecutive field goals, adding six more to the nine straight he had at the conclusion of the '89 campaign, a string snapped when he missed a 49-yarder at Detroit (Sept. 30); Stenerud had held the previous record of 12, accomplished in 1981...First tied the Green Bay field goal distance record with a 53-yard effort against the L.A. Rams in the season opener (Sept. 9), a milepost originally established by Stenerud at Tampa Bay on Nov. 22, 1981...Coupled with his subsequent 51-yard success at the Raiders, the 53-yarder gave him two FGs of 50 or more yards in a season, first tying the club record...Led Packers in scoring with 97 points, and became only the 21st player in team history to score as many as 200 points in a career...Put 19 of 69 kickoffs in the end zone, 12 of them touchbacks...1989: Provided Packers with winning margin in six games as a rookie...His most dramatic moment came on Dec. 3 at Tampa Bay, when he hit a 47-yarder on the final play of the game to give Green Bay a 17-16, come-from-behind victory...His first decisive effort had come on Sept. 17, when his fifth and final PAT shaded the Saints, 35-34...In subsequent weeks he: made a 22-yard field goal against Atlanta (Oct. 1) with 1:42 remaining to propel the Packers past the Falcons at Milwaukee, 23-21; nailed a 38-yarder in overtime vs. Detroit on Oct. 29 at Milwaukee, giving Green Bay a 23-20 conquest; provided the winning margin over the Bears (Nov. 5) with his second conversion of the day in 14-13 triumph; and hit his final PAT try vs. Minnesota at Milwaukee (Nov. 26), spelling the difference in 20-19 victory...Had a career-high 78.6% success rate on field goal attempts (22/28), also converting all 42 of his PAT tries...Emerges as Packers' leading scorer with a career-high 108 points, becoming only the third Green Bay player to surpass 100-point mark and the first since Stenerud had totalled 115 points in 1983...Tied a club single-game record along the way, making 4 field goals at Chicago on Dec. 17 (19, 44, 23 and 21 yards)...Hit season-long 52-yard field goal in Atlanta contest...Solved what had been a trouble spot for Packers in 1988, when four different Green Bay kickers missed a total of 6 extra points and converted only 13/25 field goal tries...Sent 20 of his 51 kickoffs into the end zone, 11 of them resulting in touchbacks...Drafted in the sixth round (142nd overall and 1st kicker) by Green Bay in 1989.

COLLEGE: Three-time letterman (1984-85, 1988) at Texas-El Paso...Redshirted in 1987...Successful on 32/38 field goal attempts and on 67/70 PAT tries during his collegiate career...Graduated as Miners' all-time career leader in both FG (84.2%) and PAT (95.7%) percentage...Had outstanding 1988 senior season, earning first-team All-America recognition from Football Writers Association of America and second-team All-America honors from Associated Press...Also was an All-Western Athletic Conference first-team choice...Set UTEP single-season record for highest FG percentage — 86.6 (26/30)...Also made all 49 of his PAT attempts...Hit career-long 52-yarder vs. Air Force...Holds B.S. degree in business finance.

64 John Jurkovic

Nose Tackle • Eastern Illinois • 2nd Year

Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 285 • Born: 8/18/67 • Acq: FA-91

PRO: A battler in the truest sense of the word, John Jurkovic's dedication served him well in 1992 as he won the Packers' starting nose tackle job in training camp, then quietly and unspectacularly went out and did that which he was asked to do by the coaching staff...Many things have changed for John since the end of the '92 season, among them his designation as the starting nose tackle with the signing of unrestricted free agent Bill Maas and his jersey number (92), which he willingly gave up when another free agent signed on in Green Bay — Reggie White...“John gave us a good year of service (in 1992),” says his position coach, Greg Blache. “He did a good job inside of holding up the middle and keeping the linebackers clean to make hits. I’m looking for him to take his game up a notch this year and compete with Bill Maas for that starting spot.”...Blache knows that if anyone can overcome a situation where the cards look to be stacked against him holding onto his starting spot, it’s Jurkovic...“He plays with intensity and he’s one of the mentally toughest players we have,” Blache says, “in addition to being physically tough. He’d be a great Marine. He’s got some inner strength that some people just wish they had. I think that’s why he’s here — because of that inner strength.”...1992: Won starting nose tackle job in training camp over '91 starter Esera Tuaolo...Went on to start in 12 games, playing in other four contests as a reserve when Packers matched up with run-and-shoot offenses of Atlanta, Detroit and Houston...Finished 12th on team in total tackles with 34 (22 solo), also weighing in with 2 sacks...Recorded his first career sack vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 15)...Later picked up his second NFL sack on Dec. 20 vs. the L.A. Rams, also contributing 4 tackles in that contest...Became a kickoff return man of some repute in '92, returning 3 for 39 yards (13.0 avg.); had 14-yard returns in successive weeks vs. Tampa Bay and Detroit (Nov. 29 and Dec. 6), then closed out his personal year with an 11-yarder against the Rams...1991: Signed as a free agent by Green Bay on March 8, he was waived on the final cutdown (Aug. 26)...Joined Packers' practice squad two days later, where he remained until Nov. 22...His perseverance paid off then, when he was activated following Shawn Patterson's placement on injured reserve...Played in Green Bay's last five games of '91 season as a reserve, beginning with a 14-10 victory over the Colts in Milwaukee...Credited with 1 solo tackle...1990: Spent majority of his rookie season on practice squad of Miami Dolphins...Originally signed by Dolphins as an undrafted free agent, he subsequently was waived on Aug. 28...Joined the Miami practice squad on Oct. 3, where he spent the balance of '90 before becoming an automatic free agent at season's end.

PRO: One of the most pleasant surprises of training camp in 1992...Signed by Green Bay as a free agent last summer after he had taken the World League by storm by setting a single-season record for tackles...Playing inside linebacker, he made himself virtually impossible to cut by leading Packers in tackles during the preseason...An excellent athlete, he eventually worked his way into the starting lineup at 'Buck' linebacker (LOLB) last year, and more than held his own...Going into training camp this season, with the drafting of Wayne Simmons he has been penciled in at the 'Pluggie' linebacker spot (RILB) which was left unsettled by the off-season neck surgery of '92 starter Johnny Holland... "I think George's experience in the World League helped him to come prepared for training camp and for the (1992) season," reflects Linebackers Coach Bob Valesente. "When he got here, he was in good condition and was ready to play. George's explosiveness and speed helped him to be our leading tackler in the preseason. George has excellent closing speed and he finds the ball well. There is a possibility that he will be back inside this year where some of his greatest strengths can be utilized. It would give him an opportunity to run the ball down more effectively."...1992: Played in all 16 games with 10 starts, primarily at 'Buck' linebacker (LOLB)...Began season in a backup role and as one of Packers' more prominent special teams players, he first was inserted into the starting lineup on Oct. 25 vs. Chicago...Finished year seventh on team in tackles with 55 (34 solo), also contributing 1½ sacks and 2 passes defended...In addition, tied for fifth on club in special teams stops with 8 (all solo)...On Sept. 27 vs. Pittsburgh, made 3 special teams tackles and also recovered Rod Woodson's muffed punt, which immediately led to Green Bay's final touchdown in 17-3 victory over Steelers...Had a career-high 14 tackles, including 9 solo (tying a team high for the '92 season), at Minnesota on Dec. 27...Made 5 tackles and ½ sack at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8)...Picked up first full sack in NFL vs. Detroit on Dec. 6...Had led Green Bay in total tackles during the preseason with 23...Signed with Packers as a free agent on June 1, 1992...WORLD LEAGUE: Signed with Ohio Glory of World League of American Football on Dec. 17, 1991...Established himself as one of the top defensive players in the WLAF during the '92 season...Led the World League with 91 total tackles, setting a league single-season record for tackles in the process...Also had 2½ sacks as he started all 10 games...Nominated multiple times for World League Player of the Week honors, but did not receive the recognition he deserved due to Glory's 1-9 record...Made a season-high 12 stops vs. the Birmingham Fire on May 24...1991: Signed with the Atlanta Falcons as an undrafted free agent on April 30, 1991, subsequently was waived on final cutdown of training camp (Aug. 26).

PRO: Savvy veteran quarterback acquired in an off-season trade (April 5) with the N.Y. Jets...A career Jet, he had been that team's starting QB from 1985-91...A two-time Pro Bowl participant, played in the NFL's annual all-star contest in both 1985 and '91...Immediately was penciled in as the backup to Green Bay starter Brett Favre following his acquisition..."He's a security blanket. He allows us to rest easy at night knowing we have another quarterback who can come in and win games for us," says Steve Mariucci, coach of the Packer QBs. "He brings a wealth of experience and gives some maturity to the group. He'll be really good on the sideline. He will be able to watch defenses and help Brett out during the game. He also allows us time to develop Ty (Detmer) and Mark (Brunell); he gives us an opportunity to bring them along slowly."...Enters 1993 season as the 17th-ranked passer in NFL history based on his career passer rating of 80.95 — 10th-best among active quarterbacks and immediately in front of Packer legend Bart Starr's 80.5 rating...Ranks second to Hall of Famer Joe Namath in most of Jets' career passing categories, including yards (24,386), touchdown passes (124) and attempts (3,465)...Does own club career records for highest completion percentage (58.8%) and most completions (2,039)...Only Jets player to lead team in passing for seven consecutive years (1985-91)...Also is lone Jet to pass for 3,000-plus yards in four different seasons...Second to Namath in career 300-yard games with 17...After 10 seasons with another team, Mariucci harbors no concerns about O'Brien's ability to pick up the Packers' offensive system, saying, "He is very intelligent. He catches on very quickly. His approach to the game is like you would expect from a veteran. He understands defenses and he has an understanding of offensive concepts. He doesn't require a lot of repetitions to be effective at running this system."...1992: Lost starting

PRO: Injury riddled throughout his five league seasons, this pass-rushing specialist is attempting to return from a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee — the ACL in his left knee previously had been reconstructed in 1989 — which forced him to miss the entire 1992 campaign...A quick and agile big man, he had become the Packers' starter at right end in 1989 before suffering a series of injuries which have hindered him from reaching his full potential...Problematically bothered by less serious injuries over the 1990-91 seasons, he has mainly been a situational player since coming back from his '89 knee injury...In all, has played in only 43 of Green Bay's 80 games since he joined the club in 1988...“He had a great training camp last year; it was the best one that he's had here,” says Packers Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache, who has been Patterson's tutor for his entire pro career. “Then we lost him on the first series of the preseason on the third play. And he had had three great plays — a sack, a tackle and a pressure. He's worked hard to come back from (the knee injury). He has pass-rush ability and athleticism. It really hurt when we lost him last year.”...Has played both left and right end during his pro career, is slated to begin '93 training camp at RDE...1992: Tore the anterior cruciate ligament of his right knee on Green Bay's first defensive series of the '92 preseason, Aug. 8 vs. Kansas City...Sacked Chiefs' QB Dave Krieg for a 7-yard loss on initial play from scrimmage, before being felled by knee injury on third snap of contest...Subsequently was placed on preseason injured reserve on Aug. 24...Prior to his injury, he had been enjoying probably the best training camp of his career and was being counted upon heavily by new defensive coordinator Ray Rhodes to provide pass rush from the right side...1991: Saw action in first 11 games of season as a reserve before having his year cut short with knee injury...Sprained the medial collateral ligament in his right knee vs. Minnesota on Nov. 17, leading to his placement on injured reserve five days later for the balance of the season...Got most of his playing time in third-down and other long-yardage situations due to his speed and pass-rush ability...Registered 11 tackles (9 solo) and 1½ sacks...Made season-high 3 solo tackles, including sack of Jim Everett, at L.A. Rams on Sept. 29...Had shared a sack (with Bryce Paup) two weeks earlier vs. Tampa Bay...1990: Coming back from major knee surgery which had sidelined him for the majority of 1989, got off to a slow start when he suffered a pulled hamstring in the early days of training camp...Down time made it difficult for him to regain the starting job he had held in '89 prior to being injured...Hamstring injury lingered, forcing him onto IR for Green Bay's first four games...Returned in Week 5 at Chicago, but aggravated hamstring problem and was relegated to inactive status for next game at Tampa Bay...Returned following Packers' bye week and flashed big-play ability which had once been predicted for him...Made pivotal play in 24-10 win over Vikings in Milwaukee (Oct. 28), scoring first NFL touchdown when he intercepted a Rich Gannon pass and ran nine yards to the end zone to give Packers 17-3 advantage...Recorded four sacks — including two in 29-16 win at L.A. Raiders on Nov. 11 — to tie fellow DE Matt Brock for runner-up honors on Green Bay defense...Also credited with 17 tackles (15 solo), 1 forced fumble and 3 passes defended in 1990...1989: Started first six games of year at right end before tearing the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee at Minnesota on Oct. 15, sidelining him for balance of '89...Prior to injury, had 29 tackles (19 solo), ½ sack and a blocked PAT attempt (vs. Dallas)...Entering season had been projected as replacement for departed Alphonso Carreker at left end, shifted to other side when he and Robert Brown flip-flopped spots...1988: Flashed big-time pass-rush potential as a rookie, registering five quarterback sacks to tie Blaise Winter for second on team...Quickly was pressed into service, starting four of first six games at left end due to preseason knee injury of Carreker...Played in 15 games overall, sitting out in Week 2 himself due to a leg injury...Served

PRO: One of the more versatile players on the Green Bay defense, this soft-spoken Iowan's primary contribution over the past two seasons has come as a pass-rusher...Has been second to Tony Bennett in sacks in both 1991 and '92...Big, smart player with a constant push to the football and a never-give-up mentality...Made himself especially valuable in 1992 through his knowledge of three of the four linebacker spots..."Bryce was a versatile guy for us," states Linebackers Coach

THE PLAYERS

Bob Valesente. "Each game he prepared to play three different positions for us — our 'Buck' linebacker (LOLB), our 'Mike' linebacker (LILB) and our 'Elephant' linebacker (ROLB). He took on a role that was very difficult to do, and he gave us an outstanding effort in all areas. His pass-rush ability is a great strength, and we tried to take advantage of that whenever possible. Last year we also asked him to get more involved in pass coverage than he had ever done here."...1992: Started 10 games (6 at LOLB, 4 at LDE) in '92, playing in all six other contests as a reserve...Began season as Packers' starter at LOLB before George Koonce assumed that role vs. Chicago on Oct. 25...Subsequently got majority of his playing time as a situational pass-rusher...Finished second on team in sacks with 6½, a total which also tied him for 20th in the NFC last season...Enjoyed perhaps his finest game of year at Houston (Dec. 13), posting 3 tackles, 1 sack and a key fumble recovery; his FR blunted an Oilers drive which had reached the Packers' 36-yard line with Green Bay clinging to 9-7 lead in eventual 16-14 victory...Only one week earlier vs. Detroit he had made his first career fumble recovery, in addition to 6 tackles and 1 sack...Registered 1 ½ sacks vs. Lions in earlier meeting at Pontiac, Mich. (Nov. 1)...Had particularly successful days vs. Buccaneers, recording 2 sacks and forcing a fumble in Week 2 at Tampa Bay, then notching another sack in rematch of the clubs...Finished season ninth on team in total tackles with 43 (22 solo)...Also tied for second on club in fumble recoveries with 2...Chipped in 1 forced fumble and first 2 passes defended of his career as well last season...Got start at LOLB in five of team's first six games (opening at LDE in Week 5 vs. Falcons' "Red Gun" offense)...Also started at LOLB at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8) as Packers began contest in special five-linebacker defense...Three other times (Nov. 1 at Detroit, Dec. 6 vs. Lions and at Houston) started at LDE as Green Bay matched up to those teams' four-WR offenses...1991: A once obscure player, he burst onto the national scene early in '91 by piling up sacks in volume...Became sudden media star, including national recognition on CBS-TV's "NFL Today"...Found most of his success when employed as Packers' "rover" linebacker — a duty previously performed by Tim Harris...In that role, he would bounce around the line of scrimmage just prior to the snap, sometimes rushing the QB from the outside, sometimes shooting in on the inside and other times lining up right over center, but always leaving the opposition uncertain of his intentions...Played in 12 games with one start (at LILB in place of Johnny Holland)...Made the most of that start, earning NFC Co-Defensive Player of the Week honors for his stellar performance vs. Tampa Bay on Sept. 15...Recorded 4½ sacks (for -35 yards), his first NFL safety and 7 solo tackles...Had 2 additional QB pressures as well...His safety, a play where he eluded the upfield block of Bucs' FB Robert Wilson before dropping quarterback Vinny Testaverde in the end zone, put Green Bay ahead 2-0 in second quarter and provided eventual winning margin in 15-13 victory...Shared conference award with Philadelphia's Clyde Simmons, who also had picked up 4½ sacks that week...Ironically enough, Paup's feats came on a day where he suffered from an upset stomach and, by self-proclamation, was not at 100%...His 4½-sack output was the most sacks by a Green Bay player in one game since DE Ezra Johnson registered five on Sept. 3, 1978, at Detroit...Followed strong showing vs. Bucs with another valiant effort the next week at Miami...Terrorizing QB Dan Marino and the Dolphins' offensive line with his constant movement prior to the snap, had two more sacks, forced a fumble by Marino, recorded 6 tackles (5 solo) and also pressured the Miami signal-caller on two other occasions...Had begun '91 season by instantly making himself known to the nation as the player who had put Eagles QB Randall Cunningham out for the year with torn knee ligaments...Also got attention for himself in a more conventional manner against Eagles, getting a season-high five quarterback pressures and by recording his first NFL sack (of Cunningham in first quarter)...On the year, he made 28 tackles (24 solo), 7½ sacks (-46 yards) and forced 3 fumbles...His seasonal sack total was 16th in the NFC and second on the team to Tony Bennett's 13, in addition to being ½ sack more than 1990 club leader Harris...Led NFL in sacks after Weeks 3-6 before being overtaken by Redskins' Charles Mann...Was tied with Bennett for team lead in fumbles caused...Also added 2 solo special teams tackles...Had season curtailed when on Nov. 17 vs. Minnesota he suffered a tear in the gastroc muscle of his left leg...Injury was a dark ending to what had started out as one of the happiest days of Paup's life, when his wife, Denise, gave birth to the couple's first child at 8:05 a.m. that day after a night-long vigil at the hospital...Spent following two games, vs. Indianapolis and at Atlanta, on inactive list due to gastroc COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-year letterman (1986-89) at Northern Iowa...Played a host of different positions for Division I-AA Panthers, seeing action at inside and outside linebacker as well as at defensive end and nose tackle...Recorded 298 career tackles (157 solo), in addition to 6 forced fumbles, 3 fumble recoveries, 2 interceptions, 12 passes defended, 24 tackles for loss and 15 sacks...Made career-high 115 tackles (84 solo) as a senior, earning All-Gateway Conference honors and being named a third-team All-American by AP...Majored in business.

Offensive Tackle • Southern Calif. • 9th Year

Ht: 6-6 • Wt: 290 • Born: 8/20/62 • Acq: D1-85

PRO: One of the NFC's more solid left tackles, he rebounded from two consecutive injury-riddled seasons to play every offensive snap for Green Bay in 1992...Counted on to take his game to an even higher plane this season, this past Feb. 25 he was designated as one of the Packers' two "transition" players under the NFL's new free agency system...Health withstanding, stands to make his 100th career start in the NFL this season, on Nov. 8 in the Packers' Monday Night Game at Kansas City...Green Bay Offensive Line Coach Tom Lovat sees nothing but great things ahead for Ruettgers in 1993, saying, "Ken had a very strong season last year. He played every snap, never missed a down. If he can play at the level he did last year and keep improving, he should be one of the premier left tackles in the game this season."...A fixture at left tackle since the opening game of the 1986 campaign, his second year in the league, he had missed only one non-strike game over his first five NFL seasons (1985-89) before knee and hamstring injuries greatly reduced his time on the field during both 1990 and '91...Ruettgers has attained a fairly high level of success in his career, mainly due to his preparedness...An exhaustive seeker of perfection, not only does he spend long hours in the weight room, but he also thoroughly studies his opponent during the workday and after hours...Included in his analysis is a personal "book" which he keeps on each defensive end he faces over a season...Comprehensive in nature, its contents include "just what their moves are, what their personality types are from what I can determine on film, and what they've done against me and against other teams," the author, Ruettgers, reveals. "I take things down," he says...Measured into his success, undoubtedly, is the strenuous off-season regimen which he maintains, a program consisting of, among other things, four days of weightlifting per week, racquetball, basketball, karate, jumping rope and hitting the speed bag...1992: Started all 16 games for the third time in his career, having also accomplished the feat in 1986 and '89...Did not miss an offensive snap the entire year, a giant accomplishment for a player who had been ravaged by injury the previous two seasons...Held Philadelphia's Clyde Simmons, at the time the leading sacker in the NFC, without a sack in 27-24 victory over Eagles (Nov. 15) — a feat which came in Ruettgers' 100th career game in the NFL...1991: Got into but four games as he was hobbled by nagging hamstring injury...Started at left tackle in Packers' first three games before suffering pulled hamstring in practice on Sept. 18...The injury — the first hamstring problem he had experienced in his career — was at first thought to be relatively minor; it lingered, however, forcing Ruettgers to miss the next six games (inactive), plus Green Bay's bye week, while on the mend...Returned to start vs. Buffalo on Nov. 10 in Milwaukee, but re-injured hamstring while pulling on running play...Placed on injured reserve on Nov. 13, where he spent the remainder of the year...Recovered fumble vs. Buccaneers (Sept. 15)...Had made 1 miscellaneous tackle at Detroit one week prior...1990: Missed five starts at mid-season after undergoing arthroscopic surgery on both of his knees during the Packers' bye week, ending string of 37 consecutive games in which he had started dating back to Week 2 of '88 campaign...1989: Started all 16 games for second time in his career as Packers enjoyed 10-6 season...1988: Missed the season opener vs. the Rams (Sept. 4) due to shoulder injury sustained in Packers' initial preseason contest, Aug. 6 vs. the N.Y. Giants...His absence in inaugural snapped a streak of 44 straight non-strike games played, beginning with opening duel of his '85 rookie year...1987: Had one of the finest seasons of his career, giving up only 3½ quarterback sacks over the course of the strike-shortened, 12-game schedule...Recognized for that accomplishment, among other things, when he was voted as Packers' "Offensive Player of the Year" by Wisconsin sports media — the first time a Green Bay offensive lineman has been so honored since center Ken Bowman was similarly recognized in 1971...Was the starter in all 12 "union" games...Ruettgers' season-long performance was all the more impressive in light of the fact that he had been forced to overcome an attack of mononucleosis during the early weeks of training camp...1986: First gained league-wide notoriety in finale against the N.Y. Giants (Dec. 20), who would go on to win Super Bowl XXI, when he climaxed his personal year by shutting out NFL sack titlist Lawrence Taylor, in the process of which depriving the Pro Bowl linebacker of the league's single-season record for sacks...Started all 16 games for first time...1985: Played in all 16 games with two starts as a rookie...Pressed into starting lineup at LT for opening game at New England (Sept. 8) when incumbent Karl Swanke was moved to RT in place of Greg Koch, who himself had been switched to RG in Ron Hallstrom's injury-forced absence...Also got starting call in closer at Tampa Bay as Swanke had suffered a knee injury the week prior vs. Detroit...Split time with Swanke in eight of the final nine games...Became a Packer by virtue of a draft day trade with the Buffalo Bills, Green Bay exchanging its first- (14th overall) and second-round (42nd overall) choices for the Bills' first-rounder (7th overall), which was then used to tab Ruettgers, the Packers also receiving a fourth-round pick in 1986.

Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 210 • Born: 4/6/65 • Acq: D1-88

PRO: Quietly one of the NFL's best wide receivers over his first five league seasons, Sterling Sharpe last year made it virtually impossible for anyone to ignore him anymore by making a record-setting 108 receptions...Highly charismatic, both on the field and in the locker room among teammates, he may well be the league's top receiver "after the catch"...Skilled in taking a short pass for an additional 10-20 yards, an attribute aided by his high degree of fearlessness in going across the middle, he uses his superior strength to advantage in coming off the line..."His No. 1 asset is his ability to run with the ball after the catch," marvels Packers Offensive Coordinator Sherman Lewis, who previously had tutored both Jerry Rice and John Taylor while receivers coach for the 49ers. "He's excellent at getting first downs. He's a very physical receiver, probably as physical as any receiver in the league. He thrives in bump-and-run coverage because of his tremendous strength, both in the upper and lower body. They can't hold him up. He has a rare combination of speed and strength. Once he gets the ball in his hands, he's got great balance. He's also a great competitor, much more than people know because they see him as a happy-go-lucky guy. But when that horn blows and it's game time, that competitiveness comes out."...Demonstrated his considerable talents to America in 1992 by breaking the NFL's single-season record for receptions with 108, toppling the old mark of 106 established by Washington's Art Monk in 1984...Now has led the NFL in receptions twice (also in 1989 with 90 catches)...Consistently a quality performer throughout his career, last year he also set a new all-time league record for most receptions in the first five seasons of a career — 389 — bettering the 358 of the previous record-holder, Roger Craig...Remarkably, he already stands fourth on the Packers' all-time receiving list, his 389 career catches putting him 59 receptions away from #3 Boyd Dowler (448)...Based on his career average of 77.8 receptions per season, he probably will overtake Dowler in '93 and even has an outside shot at reaching #2 Don Hutson (488) this year should he have another torrid season...Now holds top two single-season reception totals in club annals — 108 in '92 and 90 in '89 — as well as four of the top eight...A three-time Pro Bowl selection, the honor bestowed upon him following the 1989, '90 and '92 seasons...Has led Packers in receptions and receiving yards in each of his five seasons with team...Also has put up a 1,000-yard season in three of the last four years (1989-90, 1992), giving him sole possession of second place in Packer history behind the 5 of James Lofton (1980-81, 1983-85)...Tied for third in Green Bay annals for most career 100-yard games, he and Dowler each having 19 to his credit, while Hutson is second with 24...Now fifth on Packers' career receiving yards list with 5,741, #4 Max McGee (6,346) and #3 Dowler (6,918) are within sight...Enters the 1993 season having caught at least one pass in a team-record 71 consecutive games, a skein dating back to the 10th game of his 1988, rookie campaign (Nov. 6 at Atlanta)...The last game in which

92 Reggie White

Defensive End • Tennessee • 9th Year

Ht: 6-5 • Wt: 290 • Born: 12/19/61 • Acq: UFA-93

PRO: Because of both his imposing person and his towering achievements on the football field, Reggie White gives the impression of being larger than life, an image befitting the most sought-after performer to become available when free agency came to the National Football League in the off-season...Packers Head Coach Mike Holmgren eloquently underscores the image, describing the monolithic Tennessean as "maybe the finest player who has ever played his position." ...And General Manager Ron Wolf, who spearheaded the drive to acquire the ex-Eagle standout's services, has called him "the cornerstone of one of the finest defenses in the National Football League since 1985. When you think of the Philadelphia Eagles, you think of the tremendous defensive unit, and when you think of the defensive unit, you think of one player. He is a very important part of what we're going to put together here." ...A seven-time Pro Bowl selection and the only defensive lineman in NFL history to have more sacks (124) than games played (121), White was signed to a 4-year contract on April 8, 1993, thus ending weeks of nation-wide speculation about his football future and intense pursuit of his services by a number of other clubs...His lofty professional stature is underscored by the fact he ranks second only to the New York Giants' Lawrence Taylor (126½) in career sacks since sacks first were compiled in 1982...Impressively productive since his selection by the Eagles as a first-round pick in the NFL's supplemental draft of USFL players in 1984, White has amassed 794 tackles (570 solo) and 430 quarterback hurries, in addition to the 124 sacks....He also has registered 2 interceptions, 26 passes defended, forced 18 fumbles and recovered 12, two of the latter for touchdowns...The only player to be selected by Pro Football Weekly on its 1980s All-Decade team and also to be projected to its All-1990s team, he usually has lined up at defensive end, but has used his strength and speed (4.6 in the 40) to play havoc on blocking schemes from various positions along the line during his career...Launched his

Rams, forcing a fumble which set up Eagles' first points of the game...1989: Pro Bowl starter and a near-consensus first-team All-NFL and All-NFC pick...Recorded 11 sacks while helping Philadelphia set a team record of 62...Posted three multiple-sack games, including a season-high 2½-sack effort vs. the 49ers (Sept. 24)...Forced a fumble by Giants' Phil Simms that Eagles returned for a touchdown on opening series of a key matchup between NFC East leaders at Giants Stadium (Dec. 3)...1988: Led the NFL in sacks (18) for second straight year...Named NFL Player of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club and was a unanimous selection as a Pro Bowl starter...Finished second to Chicago's Mike Singletary in AP balloting for NFL defensive MVP, while gaining near-unanimous first-team All-NFL recognition...Had six multiple-sack games, including the third 4-sack game of his career (at Minnesota on Sept. 25)...Led Eagles' linemen with 133 total tackles...Earned NFC "Defensive Player of the Month" honors in December, punctuating his performance with a 14-tackle, 2-sack effort at Dallas (Dec. 18)...1987: Paced the NFL with an NFC-record 21 sacks (one short of league standard of 22 set by Jets' Mark Gastineau in 1984) — in only

A player will be credited with a year of NFL experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List, Inactive List, Reserve/Injured List, or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform List — six games on a combination of any of these lists. Rookies are players in their first year of professional football who have not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or post-season games. Players who have played in other professional sports leagues (Canadian Football League, etc.), have participated in previous NFL training camps, or have been on the above lists for fewer than six games are listed as first-year NFL players ("1").

SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

Sept. 6 Packers force decision into overtime against Minnesota opening day when Chris Jacke delivers 24-yard field goal with 1:57 remaining in regulation to forge 20-20 tie. Vikings prevail in sudden death, 23-20, on 26-yard Fuad Reveziz field goal with 4:40 remaining. Packers twice hold leads in contest, building an early 10-3 advantage on a 12-yard Don Majkowski scoring pass to Sterling Sharpe and a 25-yard Jacke field goal and, after falling behind early in the third quarter, go up 17-13 early in the fourth period on Majkowski's 4-yard TD pass to Sanjay Beach. Vikings then go out front, 20-17, on a 4-yard scoring pass from Rich Gannon to Hassan Jones, setting stage for Jacke's second FG, which sends game into overtime. Majkowski completes 27 of 38 passes for 189 yards and Vince Workman sets a Packer record for receptions by a running back, 12, in losing effort, emerging with 139 yards of total offense, including 89 rushing in 25 attempts. Sharpe just misses a 100-yard game, with 99 yards on 8 catches.

Sept. 20 In arrears 17-3 at end of three quarters, Packers mount one of most memorable comebacks in Lambeau Field's 35-year history to shade Cincinnati, 24-23, on a last-minute scoring pass from quarterback Brett Favre to wide receiver Kitrick Taylor. They forge 21-point fourth period to turn trick and present new Head Coach Mike Holmgren with his first regular season victory. Rookie Terrell Buckley is catalyst in the revival, returning a punt 58 yards for a touchdown to ignite comeback. Bengals retaliate, however, with 51-yard drive and a 34-yard Jim Breech field goal, padding lead to 20-10. Favre, in relief of injured Don Majkowski, then directs an 88-yard scoring drive, one climaxed by a 5-yard scoring pass to Sterling Sharpe. Chris Jacke's conversion cutting Cincinnati's lead to 20-17 with only 4:11 remaining. Buckley's fumble of a punt then sets up a 41-yard Breech FG which gives Bengals a 23-17 bulge. Things look bleak when Robert Brooks inadvertently steps out of bounds at Green Bay 8-yard-line after fielding kickoff. Packers taking over with no timeouts and only 1:07 left. On second down, however, Favre hits Sharpe with a 42-yard strike for a first down at Cincinnati 46. Two plays later, Favre completes comeback with a 35-yard throw to Taylor, racing down right sidelines, for the touchdown. Jacke's conversion provides winning point. Favre ends day with 22 completions in 39 attempts for 289 yards and 2 TDs. Sharpe posts first 100-yard day of season, with 7 catches for 109 yards. Johnny Holland earns NFC "Defensive Player of the Week" honors with 14-tackle, 2-interception performance.

Sept. 27 Playing their most proficient all-around game of the young season, Packers surprise previously unbeaten Pittsburgh, 17-3, with opportunistic, mistake-free football. Green and Gold take advantage of Rod Woodson's muff and his aggressiveness on pass coverage to register both touchdowns — while throwing no interceptions and losing no fumbles themselves. In a 3-3 tie early in second quarter, Packers engineer first major stroke following Vinnie Clark's block of a 20-yard field goal attempt. Quarterback Brett Favre lures Woodson out of position with a pump fake, then lofts ball downfield to Sterling Sharpe, who sprints distance for 76-yard TD. Early in third quarter, Woodson muffs a Paul McJulien punt and George Koonce recovers at Steeler 8. On first down, Favre "persuades" Woodson to again take his pump fake, then arches ball to Robert Brooks in right corner for Packers' final TD. Favre completes 14 of 19 passes for 210 yards and Sharpe sets an all-time Packer record by catching a pass in his 59th consecutive game, breaking James Lofton's mark. Vince Workman has career-high 26 rushes for 85 yards.

Nov. 1 A 10-point second quarter propels Packers to a 27-13 victory over Detroit at Pontiac, MI, Silverdome. Chris Jacke's 53-yard field goal, tying club distance record, and a 14-yard Brett Favre scoring pass to tight end Jackie Harris, climaxing 80-yard drive, lift Packers to permanent, 17-3 halftime lead. After margin is pared to 7 points (20-13) in third quarter by Bennie Blades' 7-yard scoring return of a blocked punt, Favre seals Lions' fate with a 30-yard TD pass to Sterling Sharpe. Favre completes 22 of 37 passes for 212 yards and 2 TDs — without an interception. Vince Workman plays major role, rushing for 101 yards in 23 carries — first 100-yard rushing day by a Packer in three years . . . since December 17, 1989. Packer defense limits Lions to 190 net yards — only 38 rushing.

Nov. 15 Chris Jacke's 41-yard field goal on game's final play puts an exhilarating period to one of the more electrifying finishes in recent Packer history as Green and Gold pull out 27-24 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles. Packers twice hold 11-point leads, second time at 21-10 early in third period, then see Eagles go up on 75-yard TD by Heath Sherman off a screen pass and a 2-yard scoring run by Herschel Walker. LeRoy Butler's recovery of a Sherman fumble, forced by a resounding Chuck Cecil hit, sets up Jacke's score-tying, 31-yard field goal. Following succeeding kickoff, Don Davey's jarring tackle forces fumble by Walker and Johnny Holland recovers at Eagle 23 with only 43 seconds left, triggering Jacke's game-winning FG. Quarterback Brett Favre, despite suffering a separation of left shoulder early in first quarter, completes 23 of 33 passes for 275 yards and 2 TDs. Vince Workman also suffers shoulder separation after strong start (65 yards in only 7 rushing attempts). Sharpe registers fifth 100-yard day of season (7 catches for 116 yards).

Nov. 22 Playing virtually error-free football in all areas, Packers move out to early lead and proceed to stifle Bears, 17-3, thus ending five-game victory drought in the series. Abetting Coach Mike Holmgren's shrewd play-calling with impressive execution, Packers control football for 34 minutes, 34 seconds to Bears' 25:26 in Soldier Field on a blustery, rainy day beset by swirling winds. Bears take a quick 3-0 lead on a Kevin Butler field goal, their only score of the afternoon and Packers shortly match it with a 39-yard Chris Jacke field goal. Late in opening period, quarterback Brett Favre hits Sterling Sharpe with 49-yard scoring pass, sending Packers ahead to stay. It remains 10-3 until Favre caps a 13-play drive with a 5-yard scramble up the middle for a second TD late in fourth quarter. Rookie Edgar Bennett, taking over for the injured Vince Workman, gains 107 yards in 29 rushing attempts, becoming first Packer rookie to have a 100-yard rushing game since Steve Atkins in 1979.

SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

Nov. 29 After settling for four field goals over first three quarters, and seeing lead change hands three times, Packers post a 19-14, come-from-behind victory over Tampa Bay via an 8-yard scoring pass from Brett Favre to Jackie Harris in fifth minute of final period. Placekicker Chris Jacke provides Packers' first 12 points, en route to a third straight win, with field goals of 34, 33, 29 and 48 yards. Favre closes out day with 26 completions in 41 attempts for 223 yards — without an interception, 9 of his throws going to Sterling Sharpe (for 52 yards). Packer secondary pilfers three of Vinny Testaverde's passes, Roland Mitchell picking off two and Chuck Cecil one.

Dec. 6 Employing a variety of scoring methods, Packers take early control of situation in snowy County Stadium, scoring on first three possessions and charging to a 28-0 lead in logging a fourth straight victory, a 38-10 triumph over Detroit. Darrell Thompson launches scoring with a one-yard bolt off right tackle, capping a 9-play, 65-yard opening drive. Quarterback Brett Favre then moves Packers 94 yards in 4 plays for a second touchdown, collaborating with Sterling Sharpe on a 65-yard maneuver for the score. Harry Sydney climaxes Packers' third possession, scoring from 9 yards out following a pass from Favre. Touchdown number four comes abruptly when Lions' Andre Ware fumbles after hit by defensive end Matt Brock. Linebacker Tony Bennett scoops up loose ball and canters 18 yards into end zone. Favre hits on 15 of 19 passing attempts for 214 yards — setting a Packer record by passing for 200 yards for eleventh straight game — and a season-high 3 TDs.

Dec. 13 Winning a fifth straight for first time since 1966, opportunistic Packers convert two fumble recoveries, an interception, a strong kickoff return and a grudging defense into a 16-14 victory over the Houston Oilers. First breakthrough comes via Roland Mitchell's fumble recovery at Houston 43-yard-line late in second quarter, setting up 39-yard Chris Jacke field goal which gives Green Bay a 3-0 halftime lead. A 34-yard return of second half kickoff by Corey Harris positions Green and Gold for a second Jacke field goal, a 36-yard effort, and Chuck Cecil's interception triggers a third Jacke FG, a 20-yarder. After Oilers mount 8-play, 82-yard scoring drive, cutting Packer lead to 9-7, Bryce Paup recovers an Oiler fumble at Green Bay 37. Quarterback Brett Favre proceeds to orchestrate a decisive, 10-play, 63-yard drive, staking Packers to a permanent 16-7 lead with a 6-yard TD pass to Sterling Sharpe.

Dec. 20 With wind chill minus-15 degrees at kickoff, Packers win sixth straight — their longest streak since 1965 — overcoming early 10-0 deficit to dispatch Los Angeles Rams, 28-13. Stout goal line stand, requiring Rams to settle for field goal, keys turnaround. Packers drive 61 yards to score following succeeding kickoff, Darrell Thompson sweeping left end from 2 yards out for TD. Green and Gold take lead for good on next series when Terrell Buckley picks off a Jim Everett pass and maneuvers circuitously through Ram "defense" 33 yards for score. One exchange later, Favre engineers a second 61-yard scoring march, capping it with a 17-yard scoring strike to Sterling Sharpe. Sharpe, with 8 receptions for 110 yards, becomes only sixth player in NFL history to catch 100 passes in a season.

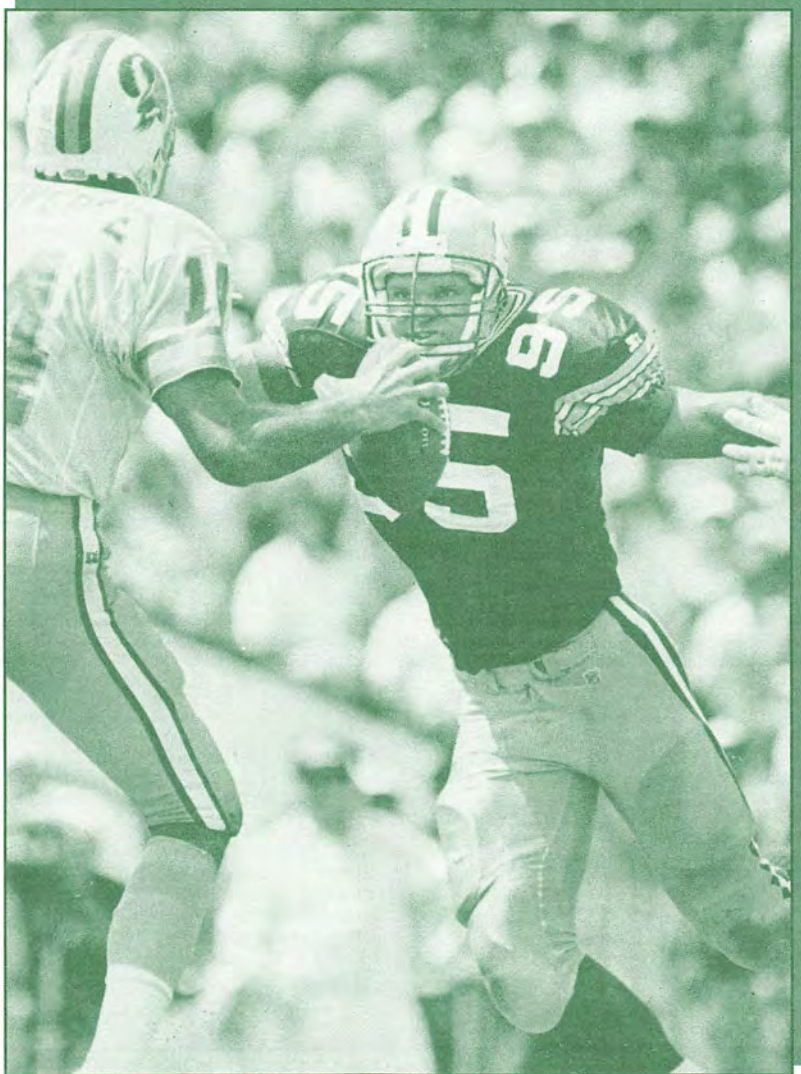

Dec. 27 With a playoff berth riding on the outcome, Packers take quick 7-0 lead against Minnesota in season finale but are subsequently unable to hold off Vikings and eventually fail, 27-7. Sterling Sharpe, with 6 catches, makes NFL history by swelling his reception total to 108, breaking all-time record (106) held by Washington's Art Monk.

Don Chandler, the Packers' placekicking specialist during the triple title years of 1965-66-67, still holds the record for most kicking points in a Super Bowl. Chandler booted four field goals and added three conversions during Green Bay's 33-14 victory over the then-Oakland Raiders in Super Bowl II at Miami's Orange Bowl (January 14, 1968).

With those 4 field goals, Chandler also continues to share another Super Bowl record. San Francisco's Ray Wersching matched Don's '68 effort with a 4 FG performance in the 49ers' 21-16 victory over the Cincinnati Bengals in SB XVI at the Pontiac Silverdome (January 24, 1982).

THE HISTORY

Wide-eyed Johnnie Gray, in action against the Packers' primordial rivals, the Chicago Bears, was enshrined in the Packer Hall of Fame last March. He posted over 800 tackles during a 10-year career.

PACKER SUPER BOWL STORY

SUPER BOWL I January 15, 1967

Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif.

Paid Attendance: 61,946

Green Bay 35, Kansas City 10

The Packers launched the Super Bowl series by whipping Kansas City's American Football League champions 35-10 behind the passing of Bart Starr, the receiving of Max McGee and a key interception by All-Pro safety Willie Wood.

Vince Lombardi's repeating NFL champions broke open the game with three second-half touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Wood's 50-yard return of an interception to the Chiefs' 5-yard line with the Packers leading by only 14-10. The pass, authored by the Chiefs' Len Dawson, had been intended for Kansas City tight end Fred Arbanas.

McGee, filling in for ailing Boyd Dowler (injured on the Packers' first offensive series) after having caught only four passes all season, snared seven from Starr for 138 yards and two touchdowns. Elijah Pitts ran for two other scores, counting one on a 5-yard run in the third quarter and the other on a one-yard bolt in the final period.

The Chiefs' 10 points came in the second quarter, the only touchdown on a seven-yard pass from Dawson to Curtis McClinton.

Starr completed 16 of 23 passes for 250 yards and 2 touchdowns and was chosen the game's most valuable player. His scoring strikes came on a 37-yard collaboration with McGee in the first quarter and a 13-yard pitch to the aging end in the decisive third period.

The Packers collected $15,000 per man and the Chiefs $7,500 apiece — the largest single-game shares in the history of team sports at the time.

SUPER BOWL II January 14, 1968

Orange Bowl; Miami, Fla.

Paid Attendance: 75,546

Green Bay 33, Oakland 14

Having acquired a third consecutive NFL championship just two weeks earlier, the Packers embellished that record-tying parlay by winning the Super Bowl title for the second straight year. This time, they dispatched the AFL champion Raiders 33-14 in a game that drew the first $3-million gate in football history.

Bart Starr again was chosen the game's most valuable player as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown and directed a Packers attack that was in control all the way after building up a 16-7 halftime lead.

Don Chandler kicked four field goals (39, 20, 43 and 31 yards), and All-Pro cornerback Herb Adderley highlighted the Green Bay scoring with a 60-yard interception return of a Daryle Lamonica pass.

After leading by only 3-0 at the quarter, the Packers padded their margin to 16-7 at halftime by way of three Chandler field goals and a 62-yard scoring pass from Starr to split end Boyd Dowler. They then left the Raiders behind with a 10-point third period, Donny Anderson scoring on a 2-yard run and Chandler with his final field goal.

The game marked the last for Vince Lombardi as Packers coach, ending nine years at Green Bay in which he won six Western Conference championships, five NFL titles and two Super Bowls, a record unprecedented in pro football history.

PACKER NFL PLAYOFF HISTORY

ELEVEN TIMES WORLD CHAMPIONS

The Green Bay Packers have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in National Football League history. They won their first three by league standing (1929, 1930 and 1931) and eight since the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933 (1936, 1939, 1944, 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967). Green Bay also is the only NFL team to win three straight titles, having done it twice (1929-30-31 and 1965-66-67).

In addition, the Packers won the first two Super Bowls (over Kansas City in 1967, 35-10, and over Oakland in 1968, 33-14).

Chicago's Bears rank second with nine NFL titles, followed by the Giants with six, the Redskins with five, and the Lions, Browns and 49ers with four each.

GAME BY GAME

1936 — GREEN BAY 21, BOSTON REDSKINS 6 (Polo Grounds, New York) — Although New York was not represented in the title playoff, the game was played in the Polo Grounds because the Redskins' franchise was being shifted to Washington, D.C., by George Marshall. A turnout of 29,545 saw Don Hutson take a 43-yard touchdown pass from Arnie Herber in the first three minutes, and the Packers were never behind.

1938 — NEW YORK 23, GREEN BAY 17 (Polo Grounds, New York) — The Packers overcame an early 9-0 New York lead, spawned by two blocked punts, but could not hold off the Giants in the second half. The Packers began to close in early in the second period, Arnie Herber capitalizing on a Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen interception by lofting a 50-yard touchdown strike to Carl Mulleneaux, cutting the Giants margin to 9-7.

The Giants shortly converted a mid-field fumble by Packer fullback Eddie Jankowski into a 16-7 lead before Green Bay again trimmed the deficit to two points before the half was over; Clarke Hinkle crashing over from the 6-inch line following a 66-yard Cecil Isbell pass to Wayland Becker. The Packers then forged in front in opening minutes of the second half for the first and only time in the game; an Engebretsen field goal presenting them with a 17-16 edge. The Giants, however, stormed back with a 61-yard scoring drive, capped by a 23-yard pass from Ed Danowski to Hank Soar. Soar fought his way over the goal line from the 2, with Hinkle clinging to one leg, for what proved to be the winning touchdown. A crowd of 48,120, a playoff record, sat in on proceedings.

1939 — GREEN BAY 27, NEW YORK 0 (State Fair Park, Milwaukee) — The Packers made playoff history by scoring first shutout ever registered in NFL championship game. Despite bitter 35 m.p.h. wind, both Arnie Herber and Cecil Isbell passed for touchdowns in leading Green Bay to its fifth world championship before 32,279 fans.

Green Bay mounted a 7-0 halftime lead, by dint of a Herber scoring strike to Milt Gantenbein, and pulled away in the third quarter on a 29-yard field goal by Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen and a long TD pass from Isbell to Joe Laws. The Packers added 10 more points in the fourth quarter on a 42-yard field goal by Ernie Smith and a short scoring run by fullback Eddie Jankowski.

1944 — GREEN BAY 14, NEW YORK 7 (Polo Grounds, New York) — With peerless pass catcher Don Hutson employed primarily as a decoy for the Giant defense, fullback Ted Fritsch emerged the offensive hero of Packers' sixth world title victory.

Fritsch scored both Green Bay touchdowns, one on a 2-yard run in the second quarter and the other on a 26-yard pass-and-run collaboration with Irv Comp in the third. Ward Cuff scored the Giants' touchdown with a one-yard plunge on the first play of the final period. Joe Laws, the Packers' veteran, 34-year-old all-purpose halfback, had a brilliant day, setting a playoff record with three interceptions and claiming ground gaining honors with 74 yards in 13 carries.

1960 — PHILADELPHIA 17, GREEN BAY 13 (Franklin Field, Philadelphia) — Packers erected a 6-0 lead in the second period and were out in front by 13-10 in fourth quarter before yielding to late surge by Eagles, who scored the deciding points on a 5-yard burst by Ted Dean.

Green Bay moved ahead in first quarter on a 20-yard Paul Hornung field goal. Hornung added 23-yard FG in second quarter but Eagles tied it 6-6 on a 35-yard scoring pass from Norm Van Brocklin to Tommy McDonald and edged ahead via Bobby Walston's first conversion. Walston followed with a 15-yard FG for a 10-6 halftime lead.

The Packers stopped Philadelphia at its own four late in the third period, then recaptured lead on a 7-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee. A 58-yard kickoff return by Dean, however, ignited Eagles and victory eluded Packers, making their first title game appearance in 16 years.

1961 — GREEN BAY 37, NEW YORK 0 (City Stadium, Green Bay — renamed Lambeau Field in 1965) — Paul Hornung, on leave from the Army, scored a record-tying 19 points to key Packer decimation of Giants in first title game ever played in Green Bay.

A record Packer home crowd of 39,029 watched the Green and Gold erupt for 24 points in the second quarter. In all, the Packers scored seven times against the NFL's top defensive team of 1961, amassing four touchdowns and three field goals. The defense, meanwhile, was proving a devastating complement to the attack, intercepting four Giant passes and recovering one fumble.

Two interceptions, by Ray Nitschke and defensive back Hank Gremminger, set up touchdowns No. 2 and 3 while the fumble recovery by Forrest Gregg led to Hornung's second field goal and a Jesse Whittenton interception to Hornung's final FG.

1962 — GREEN BAY 16, NEW YORK 7 (Yankee Stadium, New York) — Out front all the way in a raw, cyclonic setting, Packers weather siege by vengeful Giants in primitive, hand-to-hand struggle. Ray Nitschke proves principal frustration to New Yorkers, seeking redemption for shutout humiliation in '61 title game. His deflection triggers interception to blunt early Giant drive to Green Bay 10. On way to being named game's most valuable player, he also registers two interceptions, one of which led to the Packers' only touchdown of the afternoon. The other set up a 29-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer, whose trio of three-pointers provided eventual margin.

Giants' only TD comes on block of Max McGee punt in Green Bay end zone midway through the third quarter.

A battered Jim Taylor sets playoff record with 31 rushing attempts, good for 85 yards.

1965 — GREEN BAY 23, CLEVELAND 12 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Field softened by four-inch snow made Packer backs only run harder as Lambeau Field crowd of 50,777 celebrated third championship in five years. Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung amassed 201 yards rushing in rally that overcame Browns' early 9-7 lead.

Packers charged to 7-0 first-quarter advantage on 47-yard Bart Starr pass to Carroll Dale and Don Chandler's conversion, but Cleveland moved in front on a 17-yard TD strike from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins and 24-yard Lou Groza field goal.

Green Bay rebounded, however, with 15- and 23-yard FGs by Chandler, the latter following a Willie Wood interception, to claim 13-9 lead subsequently trimmed to a single point by a second Groza FG shortly before the intermission.

Starr settled the issue in third quarter, escorting the Packers on a 90-yard, 11-play scoring drive climaxed by Hornung's 13-yard sweep of Browns' right perimeter.

1966 — GREEN BAY 34, DALLAS 27 (Cotton Bowl, Dallas) — Bart Starr has one of his finest hours, passing for four touchdowns as Packers win second straight title and fourth in six years. Tom Brown thwarts last-minute Cowboy bid, and the majority of 74,152 Cotton Bowl fans, with end zone interception of Don Meredith's fourth down pass from Green Bay 2.

PACKER NFL PLAYOFF HISTORY

Packers mounted quick 14-0 lead on a 17-yard Starr pass to Elijah Pitts and 18-yard scoring run with a fumble recovery by rookie Jim Grabowski, but led only 21-17 at halftime following explosive Cowboy comeback. After a 32-yard Villanueva field goal had cut Packer lead to a tenuous 21-20, Starr hit Dowler and McGee with 16- and 28-yard scoring passes, respectively, to provide a cushion against the Cowboys' late surge.

1967 — GREEN BAY 21, DALLAS 17 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — With thermometer shuddering at 16 below zero and 50,861 in stands, Bart Starr scores winning touchdown from one-yard-line with 13 seconds remaining, sealing record third straight championship for Packers and their fifth in seven years.

Starr's touchdown, on third down with no time-outs remaining, climaxed a 68-yard drive in 12 plays.

As was case in 1966, Packers grabbed early 14-0 advantage. But this time Cowboys came from behind to take the lead, forcing storybook finish by Green Bay to win contest later voted the greatest game in pro football history.

Starr's touchdown passes of 8 and 43 yards to Boyd Dowler built the first-quarter bulge, trimmed in second quarter by George Andrie's 7-yard scoring return of a Starr fumble and a 21-yard Danny Villanueva field goal. Dan Reeves' 50-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel in the fourth quarter triggered the dramatic denouement.

1972 DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 3 (Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, Washington, D.C.) — Chester Marcol's 17-yard field goal early in the second quarter puts the Packers out front, but a Bill Kilmer-to-Roy Jefferson touchdown pass late in the same period gave the Redskins a lead they never yielded. Curt Knight kicked three field goals to provide the Redskins' other points before a crowd of 53,140 fans on Sunday afternoon, December 24. John Brockington, the Packers' 1,000-yard rusher, had to settle for nine yards on 13 carries as the Redskins used a five-man defensive line to shut down Green Bay's running game.

1982 SUPER BOWL TOURNAMENT

1982 — GREEN BAY 41, ST. LOUIS 16 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Making their first post-season appearance in Lambeau Field since celebrated "Ice Bowl" game of 1967 against Dallas, Packers halt Cardinal drive at one-yard-line in first quarter, then proceed to forge an all-time club scoring record in their opening Super Bowl Tournament contest following 1982 season.

Out front 21-9 at halftime, they pad lead to 41-9 in fourth quarter before permitting Cards a consolation touchdown. Quarterback Lynn Dickey ties Packer playoff record before 54,282 fans by passing for four touchdowns (17 of 23 for 260 yards and 0 interceptions overall) and flanker John Jefferson sets club post-season mark with 148 receiving yards on 6 catches, including a 60-yard TD reception, another Packer playoff record. Placekicker Jan Stenerud also establishes a club playoff mark with a 46-yard field goal.

1982 — DALLAS 37, GREEN BAY 26 (Texas Stadium, Irving, TX) — Packers amass 466 yards, a team playoff record, but are unable to overcome slow start which finds them trailing 20-7 at halftime. They roll up 363 yards and out-score Cowboys 19-17 in second half, pulling within four points (30-26) on a 22-yard scoring runback of an interception by Mark Lee in the fourth quarter, but Cowboys retaliate with 74-yard scoring drive to end Green Bay hopes with 63,972 fans looking on.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey throws for 332 yards (19 of 36), an all-time Packer playoff record, in losing cause. Split end James Lofton emerges with 109 yards on 5 receptions. Lofton also spices Packers' second-half comeback with 71-yard reverse for a TD, tying all-time NFL playoff record for a run from scrimmage.

PACKERS NO. 1 IN POST-SEASON

The Green Bay Packers continue to own the best winning percentage in post-season in National Football League history. They have won 13 of 18 playoff games since making their first post-season appearance in the 1936 league championship game (in which they defeated the Boston Redskins 21-6) for a .722 percentage. The San Francisco 49ers are next up with a .630 percentage, based on a 17-10 playoff record. The all-time standings:

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1963 — E. (Curly) Lambeau, Founder, player, coach, vice-president (1919-49). Founded Packers in 1919 and served as team's only coach through 1949 season. Also played halfback from '19 through '27, a period during which he pioneered forward pass in professional football. Led Packers to six world championships and is one of only five coaches to record more than 200 coaching victories in the NFL (others are George Halas, Don Shula, Tom Landry and Chuck Noll). Also coached Chicago Cardinals (1950-51) and Washington Redskins (1952-53).

1963 — Johnny (Blood) McNally, HB (1928-36). Also played for Milwaukee Badgers, Duluth Eskimos, Pottsville Maroons, Pittsburgh Pirates. An elusive runner and gifted pass receiver, he played major role in Packers' drive to first three championships in 1929, '30 and '31. Also helped Packers win a fourth world title in '36. Going into 1993 season, still held 18th place in Packer lifetime scoring, six decades after departing Green Bay scene, with 224 points. Collegiate star at St. John's.

1963 — Don Hutson, E (1935-45). Made third-most touchdown receptions (99) in pro football history, an all-time NFL record until broken by Steve Largent and subsequently surpassed by Jerry Rice. Credited with inventing pass patterns, he led league in receiving 8 years and in scoring 5 seasons, both also lifetime marks. Caught passes in 94 of 95 games from 1937-45. Led NFL in receiving yards in 7 seasons, an all-time record. Also holds league record for most points scored in one quarter (29).

1963 — Robert (Cal) Hubbard, T (1929-35). Also played for New York Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates. A legendary athlete, he was one of pro football's first genuine giants — a massive 6-ft. 3-inch, 265-pounder who was a devastating blocker on offense and relentless pursuer on defense as a premier, two-way performer. Was an All-Pro choice in each of first three years (1931, '32, '33) such selections were made. Played college football at Centenary, Geneva.

1964 — Clarke Hinkle, FB (1932-41). A four-time All-Pro selection (1936, '37, '38, '41). One of the most versatile players in NFL annals, he was tough, bruising runner, fine blocker, good receiver and excellent placekicker as well as shrewd, hard-hitting linebacker. Fourth-ranking rusher in Packer history with 3,860 yards in 1,171 carries. Played college football at Bucknell.

1964 — Mike Michalske, G (1929-37). Also played for New York Yankees (1927-28) before joining Packers. Rated one of game's greatest guards during pro football's "two-way" era. Two-time All-Pro selection (1931 and 1935). A true 60-minute player, he was known as "Iron Mike" because of his great stamina and durability. Best asset was exceptional quickness, which made him equally effective on both offense and defense. Played college football at Penn State.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1966 — Arnie Herber, QB (1930-41). Also played for New York Giants (1944-45). Pro football's first great long passer. Won three National Football League passing titles and was All-Pro selection in 1932. Teamed with Don Hutson to form NFL's first feared passing combination in mid-'30s. Ranks fourth in Packer annals with 64 career touchdown passes over his 12 seasons. Tough, durable athlete and accomplished punter as well as great passer. A Green Bay native, he played college football at Regis (Denver, Colo.)

1971 — Vince Lombardi, Coach and General Manager (1959-67). General Manager only in 1968. Also assistant coach for New York Giants (1954-58) and head coach of Washington Redskins (1969). Directed Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-62 and 1965-66-67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. His 1966 and 1967 teams also made history by winning first two Super Bowls. Packers won nine of 10 playoff games under his leadership and overall compiled a 98-30-4 record, a glittering .758 winning percentage. Lombardi, a guard, played his college football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite."

1974 — Tony Canadeo, HB (1941-44, 1946-52). Became only the third 1,000-yard rusher in pro football history when he gained 1,052 yards in 1949. Still ranks as No. 3 ground gainer in Packer annals with 4,197 yards in 1,025 attempts, a 4.1 average. A durable, all-purpose halfback, he was an accomplished blocker, capable passer and good receiver in addition to being a highly effective kick returner. Also played defensive back during early years of his career. Played college football at Gonzaga, where he acquired nickname of "Grey Ghost."

1976 — Jim Taylor, FB (1958-66). Also played for New Orleans Saints (1967). One of six running backs in pro football history to rush for 1,000 yards in as many as five consecutive seasons (1960-64). Also 11th ranking career rusher in NFL annals with 8,597 yards in 10 seasons. Ranks 14th all-time (tied) in number of 100-yard rushing games with 26 and 13th in career rushing attempts with 1,941. Also owns sixth highest lifetime total of rushing TDs, 83. Played college football at LSU.

1977 — Forrest Gregg, T (1956, 1958-70). Also played with Dallas Cowboys (1971). Drafted No. 2 in 1956. Gregg was named All-Pro eight times (including All-Pro at both Guard and Tackle in 1965) and eight times to the Pro Bowl. Called by Lombardi the "finest player I've ever coached." Gregg holds the Packer record for durability with 187 consecutive games. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1984-87. Also served as head coach of Cleveland Browns (1975-77) and Cincinnati Bengals (1980-83). Played college football at SMU, where he now is athletic director.

1977 — Bart Starr, QB (1956-71). Drafted in 17th round in 1956. Starr became the winningest quarterback in football, directing the Packers to 6 Western Division Titles, 5 World Titles, 2 Super Bowl victories, and was named MVP in Super Bowls I and II. Starr led the League in passing in 1962, 1964 and 1966 and was named to the Pro Bowl 4 times. In 1972 he coached Packer quarterbacks. Head Coach of Green Bay Packers 1975-83. 1989 — Willie Wood, FS (1960-71). Wrote several NFL teams asking for a tryout coming out of USC in 1960 before Packers agreed to take a look and signed him as a free agent. Went on to become recognized as a premier free safety, winning all-NFL honors six straight years beginning in 1963. A Pro Bowl selection eight times (1962, 1964-70), Wood also played in six NFL championship games, helping Packers win five titles. Starting free safety for Green Bay in Super Bowls I and II, he broke open a close contest in third quarter of SBI, intercepting a Len Dawson pass and returning 50 yards to the Kansas City five, triggering a 35-10 Packer victory. Had 48 career interceptions, returned for 699 yards. Won NFL title in 1962 with nine thefts and also captured a league punt return crown in 1961 with a 16.1 average. PACKERS STILL SHARE 'MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL' SCORING RECORD

The night of October 17, 1983, remains a memorable one in Packer history. On that occasion, the Packers delighted a Lambeau Field house of 55,255 fans by shading the Washington Redskins in an explosive "Monday Night Football" struggle, 48-47. As a result, they still own a share — the winning share — of the highest scoring game in the history of "MNF," ABC-TV's 23-year-old prime-time series.

The Packers eventually prevailed over the Redskins — reigning Super Bowl champions then — by way of a Jan Stenerud field goal. The scoring orgy produced 11 touchdowns, 11 conversions and 6 field goals in all. Stenerud's 20-yard success with only 54 seconds remaining decided the issue. The Redskins' Mark Moseley added a final, dramatic flourish by missing a 39-yard field goal attempt on the game's last play.

The 95-point production surpassed the previous "Monday Night Football" record for total points by 11. The latter had been established Dec. 20, 1982, when the San Diego Chargers outscored the Cincinnati Bengals, 50-34.

The contest also was the highest scoring game in which the Packers ever have been involved. The 95 points exceeded by eight the previous mark of 87, set when Green Bay lost to the Lions at Detroit in 1951, 52-35.

The Packer record on "Monday Night Football"

PACKERS OWN OVERTIME MARK

The Green Bay Packers continue to own the National Football League record for most overtime games played in a season, a standard they set in 1983 when they were involved in five sudden death decisions, winning two and losing three.

In the interim, the Packers have gone to sudden death six additional times — on three occasions in 1987, once in 1989 and 1991 and, the most recent, a 23-20 loss to Minnesota to open the '92 season.

In its 18 overtime contests, Green Bay stands 5-8-4 in the regular season and 1-0 in the post-season for an overall mark of 6-8-4.

The lone post-season occurrence was a historic 13-10 victory over the Baltimore Colts in a Western Conference playoff game — the first overtime game in which the Packers ever were involved — in Green Bay's Lambeau Field Dec. 26, 1965, on a 25-yard Don Chandler field goal.

In addition to regular- and post-season play, the Packers have played five overtime games in preseason action. Capsules of the Packers' regular- and post-season overtime games follow:

REGULAR SEASON (5-8-4)

Nov. 26, 1978-Green Bay 10, Minnesota 10, at Green Bay; Packers win toss. Both teams have possession of the ball four times.

Sept. 23, 1979-Minnesota 27, Green Bay 21, at Minnesota; Vikings win toss. Kramer throws 50-yard touchdown pass to Rashad at 3:18.

Sept. 7, 1980-Green Bay 12, Chicago 6, at Green Bay; Bears win toss. Parsons punts and Nixon returns 16 yards. Five plays later, Marcol returns own blocked field goal attempt 24 yards for touchdown at 6:00.

THE PACKER STORY

BIRTH OF A TEAM AND A LEGEND

On the evening of August 11, 1919, a score or more of husky young athletes, called together by Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun, gathered in the dingy editorial room of the old Green Bay Press-Gazette building on Cherry Street and organized a football team. They didn't know it, but that was the beginning of the incredible saga of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been some preliminary talk and planning and that night's decision wasn't announced until two days later, but the big step had been taken. So August 11 is as good a birthday as any.

Actually the initial spark had been struck a few weeks before during a casual street corner conversation between Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun. It was apparently one of those "Why not get up a football team?" remarks, but once they got interested they wasted no time.

FIRST THEY TALKED Curly's employer at the Indian Packing Company into putting up some money for equipment.

Because the team's jerseys had been provided by the packing company, which also permitted the use of its athletic field for practice, the club was identified in its early publicity as a project of the company. With this tie-in the name "Packers" was a natural, and Packers they have been ever since, although the corporation had practically faded out of the picture before that first season was half over.

That first season the team won 10 games and lost only one against other teams from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Games were played in an open field with no fences or bleachers, and interested fans "passed the hat." But the team was so successful by 1921 that Lambeau was backed by two officials of the packing plant in obtaining a franchise in the new national pro football league that had been formed in 1920. Cash customers didn't quite pay the freight and at the end of the season it had to be forfeited.

THIS WAS the first in a long series of troubles that the now famous team overcame, for in 1922 Lambeau gained other backers and bought the franchise back for $250. Troubles continued during that season. One game was rained out and the insurance company wouldn't pay off because the official amount of rain was one one-hundredth of an inch short of that required in the policy.

Another storm late in the season when the Packers were scheduled to play the Duluth Kelleys, however, proved the founding of the modern community corporation. A.B. Turnbull, general manager of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, told the Packers to play anyway. He then went out and helped organize the businessmen of Green Bay in the support of the team, and the Green Bay Football Corporation was formed.

FROM THOSE MODEST and somewhat tenuous beginnings, the Packers have gone on to earn national stature and virtual world-wide recognition by winning more championships (11) over the intervening 70 years than any other team in professional football.

The fact that these achievements have come while representing a city of only 96,000 inhabitants, in competition with the country's population giants, has endeared them to the nation's football fans, many of whom are intrigued by the David vs. Goliath concept and the Packers' unique status as a publicly-owned corporation.

INEVITABLY, PROCEDURES at Packer games have come a long way since the sandlot years of 1919-20 when the Pack was subsisting on the contents of George Calhoun's hat. Then there were no ushers, no majorettes, no band and no public address system — the latter hadn't been invented yet. There weren't even any seats at first, and it didn't cost anything to get in.

When the Packers began their existence in 1919, they played on approximately the same site as the now abandoned City (East) Stadium, but with a mighty difference. Hagemester Park, as it was called, was just a big vacant lot with a football gridiron marked on it.

There were no gates because there wasn't any fence. Spectators just dropped off the Walnut Street streetcar and walked over to the sideline, or drove their own cars and parked about 10 yards behind the ropes stretched around the playing field.

If they felt like it they either sat in their automobiles or on top of them, but most preferred to get out and follow the play up and down the field. By moving as the play progressed, you always had a "50-yard line" location and were handy to any donnybrook that might require a little help. In fact, when things got exciting the crowd sometimes spilled right onto the field, surrounded the scrimmage in a big circle and virtually took part in every play. Teams didn't huddle in those days, or the fans would have been in that too.

When the half ended, teams grabbed blankets and adjourned to opposite end zones where they relaxed and talked over the tactics of the next half. Nothing private about those huddles. The crowd formed a ring around the players, a practice encouraged since it made a handy wind break. Fans weren't bashful about joining the discussions either, sometimes with surprising results. At least one early game was pulled out of the fire by a spectator's halftime suggestion.

THE PACKER STORY

In 1920 a section of stands was built — just a small bleacher with a capacity of a couple hundred — on one side of the field, and a fee charged to sit there. The next year a portable canvas fence was erected around the whole field and a regular admission charge inaugurated.

WHEN HAGEMEISTER Park was dug up in 1923 to make way for East High School, the Packers shifted to the new baseball grounds out on the end of Main Street. This was called Bellevue Park because it was just east of the old Hagemeister Brewery, which was renamed the Bellevue Products Co. during Prohibition. Things were Big Time out there, with crowds of 4,000 to 5,000 storming the fences to boo the hated Chicago Bears.

The Packers used Bellevue in 1923-24, but it was obviously inadequate and too far out, lacking about every facility needed for football. Agitation to build a new stadium somewhere near the original site culminated in the erection of old City Stadium just back of the new high school.

The new plant was barely completed in time for the 1925 opening, but was an immediate success. The Bear game that year drawing a record crowd of 5,389. It was a typical small town park of its day, with wooden fences and stands on both sides between the 30-yard lines. Seating capacity was gradually increased until it seated 15,000 by 1934, with the end zones still uncovered. With the filling in of the area around the end lines the ultimate capacity of 25,000 was reached.

AFTER WORLD WAR II, City Stadium gradually faded from its once proud position as one of the favored fields in the National Football League to an inadequate and obsolete installation. As pro crowds increased it was impossible to expand the stadium any further. With limited capacity, the Packers found it increasingly difficult to schedule top opponents at home. September 29, 1957, was a proud day for Green Bay and its Packers. A million dollar modern stadium with a seating capacity of 32,150 was dedicated. In 1961, the Stadium was expanded to 38,669, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 when the name was changed to Lambeau Field, 56,263 in 1970, and to 56,926 following the addition of private boxes in 1985. With the addition of 36 more private boxes and 1,920 club seats in the south end zone, capacity was upped to 59,543 in 1990.

The Packers' colorful saga, spanning 74 years, can be divided roughly into eight chapters. They take us from the "Iron Man" period of the first decade under founder Curly Lambeau to the present day, which finds Mike Holmgren presiding as the 11th head coach in the team's history.

THE IRON MAN ERA — With good financial backing, Lambeau began to pick up college stars from all over the country, plus some unknowns who were going to turn out to be "greats." And in 1929 Green Bay won the national professional football championship. It repeated in 1930 and in 1931 with a team featuring such all-time pro greats as Red Dunn, Verne Lewellen, Cal Hubbard, Bo Molenda, Jug Earp, Mike Michalske, Johnny (Blood) McNally, Bill Kern, Arnie Herber, Clarke Hinkle, Lavvie Dilweg, Tom Nash, Milt Gantenbein and Hank Bruder. Many games 12 or 13 players would go for almost the full 60 minutes. These teams were hailed all over the country as some of the greatest ever.

THE HUTSON PERIOD — Trouble flared again soon afterward. A fan fell from the stands, sued and won a $5,000 verdict and the insurance company went out of business. The Packers went into receivership and were just about to fold when Green Bay businessmen came to the rescue again, raised $15,000 in new capital and reorganized the club. About this time a rather slight, lanky end by the name of Don Hutson came to the club. From his first game on, Hutson became the terror of the league and the secret of Green Bay's next three championships. With Herber and Cecil Isbell pitching and Hutson catching anything they threw at him despite any kind of a stop-Hutson defense, Green Bay won championships in 1936, 1939 and 1944, and all during the Hutson era the Packers always finished in the first division.

RONZANI REGIME — After Hutson's retirement, Packer fortunes again went into a decline. The disastrous pro football war brought on another financial crisis after the 1949 season. In the midst of it Lambeau resigned to take a position as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Then began another major reorganization and rebuilding effort with Gene Ronzani of the Bears hired as head coach. Over $125,000 was raised in a giant stock sale all over the state. Ronzani's teams improved each of the first three seasons until 1952. The Packers were in the thick of the title chase until the last weeks of the season. In 1953 the team played erratic ball and Ronzani resigned with two games remaining on the schedule.

BLACKBOURN TAKES OVER — The Packers overhauled their front office and coaching staff in 1954, hiring Verne Lewellen, all-time Packer great, attorney and businessman, as general manager. Reaching into the college ranks for a head coach was the next step in the rebuilding plans and Lisle Blackbourn, coach of Marquette University, was signed to a contract. During the four-year Blackbourn regime the Packers won 17 while losing 31.

McLEAN MOVES UP — Likable Ray "Scooter" McLean moved up from being an outstanding assistant coach to guide the destiny of the Packers for 1958. McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 record, the worst in Packer history in his lone season as head coach.

THE LOMBARDI ERA — In 1959, the Packers announced the signing of New York Giants assistant Vince Lombardi as head coach and general manager.

In his first season, Lombardi lifted the Packers to a 7-5 record and unanimously was voted Coach of the Year. Then in 1960, the Packers captured the Western Division title and went on to win World Championships in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967. Never finishing lower than second since 1960, his teams became the standard of football excellence and the Packer franchise one of the most successful. Over a nine-year span as head coach, Lombardi's teams racked up 98 victories against 30 losses and 4 ties for a remarkable .758 winning percentage. Even more noteworthy, however, is the record of Lombardi coached teams in post-season play. In 10 division playoffs and World Championship games, the Packers emerged victorious nine times.

BENGTON PERIOD — Following the third consecutive title in 1967, Lombardi turned over the head coaching duties to Phil Bengtson and one year later announced that he was leaving Green Bay to coach and manage the Washington Redskins. Bengtson coached the Packers from 1968-1970, compiling a 20-21-1 record, and in December of 1970 resigned.

THE DEVINE DAYS — Dan Devine, one of the three most successful coaches in the nation's collegiate ranks, succeeded Bengtson as head coach and general manager in January of 1971. After settling for a 4-8-2 record during his first season, Devine and the Packers appeared on the road to new heights when 1972 produced a 10-4 record and the team's first Central Division title since 1967. But the Packers' Super Bowl hopes dissolved in the second half of '73 and they slipped to a 5-7-2 mark. They continued their recession in '74, emerging with a 6-8 record, and Devine resigned.

BART STARR — The most successful field general in pro football history as Green Bay's quarterback of the '60s, Bart Starr accepted the challenge to lead the Packers out of the NFL wilderness, agreeing to a three-year contract as head coach and general manager on December 24, 1974. Starr, who led the Packers to five world championships from 1961 through 1967, asked for "the prayers and patience of Packer fans everywhere...We will earn everything else."

Although he had to settle for a 4-10 record in the baptismal season of a massive rebuilding project, Starr gave Packer fans new hope by assembling a sound organization and restoring a positive attitude, underscored by three victories in the last five games of the 1975 season. He continued the resurgent trend in 1976, leading the Packers to a 5-9 record, highlighted by a three-game, mid-season winning streak. Major and key injuries slowed the comeback in 1977 but a strong finish produced a 4-10 mark. Hopes soared in 1978 when the Packers posted their first winning slate since 1972, an 8-7-1 record, only to be temporarily dampened in '79 by a record rash of injuries which spawned a 5-11 mark. Another injury epidemic, one which saw 27 players on injured reserve during the course of the season, struck in 1980, forcing the Packers to settle for a 5-10-1 record.

Rebounding strongly in 1981, they rallied from a disappointing 2-6 start to mount one of the most dramatic comebacks in Green Bay history, closing with a 6-2 rush (an 8-8 mark) and coming within one victory of the playoffs.

The Packers continued the upsurge in 1982, when they qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1972 by posting a 5-3-1 record during a strike-interrupted season. They then embellished that performance by routing St. Louis 41-16 in the first game of the NFL's Super Bowl Tournament before bowing to Dallas (37-26) despite a record-setting, 466-yard offensive effort. Starr was relieved of his head coaching duties on December 19, 1983, after the Packers finished the '83 season with an 8-8 record and missed the NFL playoffs on the final week of the year.

GREGG ERA — On December 24, 1984, Starr was replaced by Forrest Gregg, a former teammate and one of the premier offensive tackles in the history of the game as a player, who had maneuvered Cincinnati into Super Bowl XVI following the 1981 season. Gregg, whose Bengals' 19-6 record over the 1981-82 seasons was the best in pro football, received a five-year contract.

In taking over, he declared, "I took this job to field a winning team. That will happen."

Gregg's prediction began to bear fruit in the second half of the 1984 season when the Packers rebounded from an injury-ridden 1-7 start to win seven of their last eight games.

Because of injury and other complications, however, the 1985 season followed the '84 script, the Packers getting off to a slow 3-6 start before mounting a strong finish to again close at 8-8 by winning five of their last seven games.

Gregg, convinced the time had come to rebuild a team which had gone 8-and-8 three years in succession and was "starting to get old" at that level, made sweeping personnel changes in 1986. The young and inexperienced Packers, their task complicated by injuries to such key performers as John Anderson, Tim Lewis, Rich Moran and Mark Cannon, got off to an 0-6 start, then began to mature in mid-season and went on to finish with a 4-and-12 record.

Following the 1987 season, which saw the Packers finish third in the NFC Central with a 5-9-1 record, Gregg resigned (January 15, 1988) to become head coach at his alma mater, Southern Methodist University.

INFANTE SIGNS ON — Nineteen days later (February 3), Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator Lindy Infante became the 10th head coach in Packer history. Recognized throughout the NFL as a brilliant innovator, the 47-year-old University of Florida alumnus received a five-year contract.

With turnovers and kicking problems plaguing his offense, Infante's first Packer team had to settle for a 4-and-12 record, but left fans with hopes for 1989 and the future by winning the last two games to mount a strong finish.

Building upon that positive note, Infante orchestrated a dramatic upsurge in '89, escorting the Packers to a 10-6 record — their best in 17 years — and within one game of the National Football League playoffs, spicing that turnaround with a league-record four one-point victories.

In 1990, subsequent high hopes for the team's first post-season berth in a non-strike year since 1972 evaporated when the Packers — with a contending, 6-5 record after 11 games — saw a potential playoff opportunity expire in the face of a season-ending, five-game losing streak.

The Packers' field fortunes continued to decline in 1991, the record falling to 4-12, and Infante was relieved of his duties on December 22 by new Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf, who had been hired November 27 with full authority to run the organization's football operation.

THE PRESENT — Mike Holmgren, architect of one of the NFL's most potent attacks as offensive coordinator for the perennially successful, four-time Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, was named by Wolf to succeed Infante as the 11th head coach in Packer history on January 11, 1992. Holmgren, sought after by five other NFL clubs, received a five-year contract.

Getting his team on track after an 0-and-2 start, the former USC field general directed the Packers to a 9-and-7 record and within striking range of the playoffs. He thus became only the third head coach in Packer history to post a winning record in his first season, a record punctuated by a six-game winning streak, longest by a Packer team since 1965.

Running back Dave Hampton, a Packer for only three seasons (1969-71), holds two club season kickoff return records — for most returns (46) and most return yards (1,314), both established in 1971. His yardage total fell only two yards shy of the existing NFL season record. Hampton, voted the Packers' Most Valuable Rookie in 1969, had engineered a 101-yard scoring kickoff return against the Vikings in 1970 to trigger a 13-10 victory over Minnesota.

PACKER RADIO NETWORK

JIM IRWIN

MAX MCGEE

Jim Irwin and Max McGee team up for the 14th consecutive season to bring the color and excitement of Green Bay Packers football to fans throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan in 1993 via the Packer Radio Network.

Irwin, whose cultured tones also can be heard on Milwaukee Bucks broadcasts, is one of the nation's most knowledgeable and authoritative play-by-play announcers. He enters his 25th year as a member of the Packers' broadcast team, having served as a color analyst from 1969-74 before taking over play-by-play duties in 1975. Irwin's skills as a sports journalist have been recognized many times over by his peers.

10 times capturing Wisconsin "Sportscaster of the Year" recognition, the most recent coming in 1989.

Popular among fans and respected for his unique insights into the game, McGee brings a special knowledge of the game — and of the Packers specifically — to the broadcast booth. One of the Packers' all-time receiving greats, he still stands fifth among Green Bay pass catchers over a quarter century after completing his 13-year playing career. Listeners respond to his droll, penetrating and sometimes irreverent wit, applied impartially to friend and foe alike.

THE LAMBEAU FIELD STORY

Green Bay's Lambeau Field, longtime home of the Packers, has undergone a number of major alterations and additions since it was constructed in 1957, the most recent of these installation of a $1.7 million color replay board for initial use in the current, 1993 season. Over the stadium's 36-year history, there have been six additions to the facility, increasing the present capacity to 59,543. The latest was completed in 1990, when 36 new private boxes and 1,920 club seats were constructed. The $8,263,000 project, which has given "Lambeau" its horseshoe appearance, increased the number of private boxes to 108 — 42 on the west side and 66 on the east side.

The theatre-style club seats, a "first" for the now legendary stadium, were installed in the south end zone on either side of the scoreboard. They are enclosed and the area is heated and air conditioned. It also is equipped with elevators, concession stands and restrooms.

The previous additions, all of them, like the 1990 project, underwritten by the Green Bay Packers, Inc., increased the stadium capacity to 38,669 in 1961, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965, to 56,263 in 1970 and to 56,916 in 1985, the year the first private boxes were constructed.

The cost of the original construction, when the stadium was built in 1957, was $960,000, shared equally by the Packer Corporation and the City of Green Bay. Financed by means of a bond issue, it received 2-to-1 voter approval in a referendum conducted April 3, 1956.

The stadium was dedicated as City Stadium on September 29, 1957. It later was renamed Lambeau Field in 1965, following the death of the late Earl L. "Curly" Lambeau, founder and first coach of the Packers.

Lambeau Field now is wholly owned by the City of Green Bay, retirement of the original $960,000 indebtedness having been celebrated at a mortgage burning ceremony in May of 1978.

With the completion of a new, 20,500-square foot addition to the team's administration building and training quarters in July, the Packer organization has spent approximately $25 million on improvements to Lambeau Field and the Packer administration building and training facilities over the past 12 years.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING ADDITION

EXTERIOR OF ADMINISTRATION BUILDING ADDITION

A 20,500-square foot addition to the Green Bay Packers' administration building and training quarters, housing a gymnasium and state-of-the-art media center, as well as new public relations and marketing offices, was completed in July, underscoring the organization's commitment to excellence in all areas.

The ground floor of the tri-level expansion, which has been joined to the west end of the existing building, includes an 84-by-70-foot gymnasium with an adjacent multi-purpose area and a suspended, 21-lap-to-the-mile track at the mezzanine level, in addition to the public relations department offices.

The second floor contains the new marketing offices and two conference rooms.

The addition also includes, at the lower level, individual workrooms for the media and a 47-seat, theater-style auditorium to accommodate the head coach's practice week and post-game news conferences, equipped with professional quality lighting and sound systems and a two-tier platform for TV photographers.

The $1.6 million project is the fifth addition to the original structure, erected in 1961, and increases the building's overall square footage to 80,500.
